General A. Jackson

Dear Sir

By the Bearer going immediately hence, to Tennessee I now do myself the pleasure of addressing you — To express my gratefull Acknowledgments for all your very Polite Favors which, I had the Honor of receiving from you when in your Vicinity —

My most Respectfull Compliments attend your good Lady — also to whose Goodness & Politeness am extremely indebted — Politics are, here, the order of the Day - the Subversion of the Spanish power in this Quarter

No doubt will extend to both the Floridas — I am no politician, however, do hazard an Opinion that the Die is cast which will involve America & Great Britain in war — To me it appears inevitable unless England make peace immediately with the Emperor of France — — — — My kindest Friend be assured that this Country is more healthy than the State you reside in — No one ever enjoyed better health than I do – were not this my real Opinion by no means would I tell you that it is — Being in great haste I embrace this Opportunity of thanking & your good Lady again & again

And Ten Thousand Times over

God bless you and do me the Justice to be convinced that I am Dear Sir with Sentiments of profound Respect Yrs very truly

I am more determined upon & anxious to close my business of every Nature & Discription in this Country than ever man was, under the same circumstances, before.
Besides this & my great wish always to see you, you may depend upon it that the order I shall ~~pass~~ take in the progression of this this desireable object will be first to give Crosthwait & Kuble possession of the property sold them, receive the payments & close with them — This I hope I shall be able to do next week, & but for the absolute necessity there is, that my attention & presence be given, at the trial of those villains, I should have now been with Crosthwait & Kuble. My next & 2 second step will be to see & close all things with you — The Coldwell debt shall then be paid & I have only to lament that my situation has been such heretofore as to involve you my friend, in Dunns so disagreeable — With Clay & Abbott Brunton will then do every thing

& I dont think it shall exceed two weeks from this day before I will make it a point to call upon & see you

I dont think I can get off from here before wednesday next—

If the trumpet of hell had been sounded & a general Jubalee proclaimed the whole infernal regions, such a set of murderers, thieves & scoundrels, could not have appeared, as the Negroes have to swear for them—

I believe there is about 40 or 50 witness on the part of the Defts & about 90 on the part of the State. They have this morning just commenced on the testimony on the part of the State.— I don't [illegible] together like the jury— Grundy & Hays was guilty of a most ungentlemanlike & in fact rascally act in packing some of them. Mr. H. can tell you how things appear to move on.

Give not only my best respts to Mrs Jackson & the little son but my love to them also

Dear Genl.

My way of counting stages when at Na ville was to be the first night at your friendly and hospitab Hermittage to have indulged in a chit chat with you u the usual hour of going to bed but Col. Weakley's coun were to Lebanon first night in order to get on in time to meet Genl. Helms at Abingdon on an appointed day w is the reason why I did not afford myself the pleasu of calling on you he being my fellow traveller — I m tioned to him the leaning toward the Hermittage & said he lo that way too but on account of his appointment with h friend above named we should not have time to call — I met Gov. Claiborne at the Point on his way home & he travelled fast not knowing how the fires round a his neighbourhood were like to turn — he & I were but a few minutes together & had but little conversation — he mer said he had no news but should take the shortest ro home say via the Garrison at the mouth of Elk — regretted that he could not take Nashville in his way — May next he will pass thro' Tennessee again when h hopes to see you and other friends which he requested m to say on his part on seeing any of them — we are w here and would be glad to hear from you often — I am told Col. Polk has just arrived in Town but h not seen him — present me respectfully to your goo lady and family and believe me to be as usua

Dear Uncle —

I should not have given yo[u]

Such a respite from reading my letters had I not expected Cousin Jack Hutchings for some time, by whom I should have had the pleasure of hearing from you, but he has not yet got this far —

I have now the satisfaction to inform you that I shall present myself to you and Aunt in prop[ria]

Persona about the middle of January — This arrange[ment] has been made between Mr Jackson and myself ver[y] lately — he agreeing to receive the goods unsold on the 20th Dec. at Cost & Carriage — From the goods I hav[e]

Sold we shall have command of a fund of about $4500, whether we shall employ this in the Mercantile business will be determined on when I see Baxter — my wish as well as Mr W. H. is for me to pay some furth[er] attention to closing the business of our old concern — and for Baxter to go on to Maryland & buy negroes, provided we can obtain a Loan of $4000, otherwise for each to take part of the Capital whilst settling our old business buy Negroes, & send them down — I hav[e]

~~not~~ enjoyed a deal good health since September 402

I expect before this a Troop have been dispatched from W. Florida to take possession of Mobile and Pensacola, you have heard ~~an~~ account no doubt of three companies under the command of Col. Cushing having embarked on board six Gun Boats destined for Fort Stoddart - It would seem these are to act in concert with the Floridians - I have not heard ~~what~~ what the number of men is, that the Convention have sent on this expedition - In all probability I shall go down to Bayou Sarah before I start up - I regret extremely that Miss B. has not yet got up from N. Orleans, as I have not had it in my power to go down - As for the young Ladies of this place & vicinity I have not ha[d] an opportunity of forming acquaintance with them, having seen only one collection at a Ball - I my Tennessee friend of family, Doctor Claiborne have perfectly indulged me in my aversion to visiting - Please present my best respects to Aunt & believe me dear Uncle yours

Dear Uncle

In my last I informed you I should be up by the middle of January, but am apprehensive will not be able so soon to see you Altho nothing would give me more pleasure, yet when my Country calls I feel bound to obey – A detachment of the U. States Troops, under Command of Colo. Covington sailed from this on 3rd Inst. – the remainder, now at Camp Washington, I believe the 3rd Regiment ~~will~~ under Command of Colo. Pike will leave this in a day or two. No doubt their destination is to take possession of West Florida – It is said Govonor Claiborne, who left this a few days ago has ordered out the Militia of the Orleans Territory And, it is expected a Detachment from this Territory will receive orders to March in a few days – In which Case, I shall go, if my health will possibly permit. If reports are true there will be some difficulty in taking the Forts of Mobile & Pensacola, tis said they are in a good state of defence & well filled with

Troops that Govonor Holch is at Mobile, expecting to receive a reinforcement from the Havannah — A Detachment from Bayou-Sarah said to be 1500 men Marched on 24th Ult. for Pensacola —

By last Mail I recd letters from Cousin Sandy & Mr Easton, in which they mention'd, Mr Jno Hutchings was to be married to Miss Polly Smith, I guess from the time mention'd, twill not be far from the Date of my letter, I wish them much happiness — Cousin Sandy informs me you are determin'd to move to this Country, I will not pretend to advise you, but persist in the opinion I have before express'd, that were I, in your situation would not move — You have nearly got through all your embarrassments, you have a delightful farm, from the produce of which you will at least be able to live comfortably, by the respectable & well inform'd part of the Country you are highly esteem'd, you are able to select a good society from yr neighborhood. You have been able, to read the Characters of men from their actions, here another Volume will be presented to your view in which human baseness will take up a considerable part —

I have lately turned a leaf, altho the characters were a little wrapp'd in mystery, yet they wore a dark and doubtful aspect. — I cannot as yet form an opinion — Please give my most dutiful respects to Aunt — & believe me dear Uncle against Robert Hays and Robert McConnel, the other at the instance of William Lytle against Robert Hays, which Executions were issued from the Superior Court of Law & Equity for the District of Mero, and to the said John Boyd Sheriff as aforesaid directed on the 15th day of August 1807 levy the said executions on all the right title and interest of the said Robert Hays in and to 640 acres of land on the North Branches of Stones River and about one and a half miles South East of Stoners lick located 20th of November 1792 — And whereas on the 17th day of October 1807 the said John Boyd as Sheriff afore =said did having advertised the same agreeable to law, did expose to sale the said tract of 640 acres, levied on as aforesaid to satisfy the said executions aforesaid, and Andrew Jackson by Doctor Frances May his agent became the purchaser and whereas the said Andrew did after the purchase aforesaid sell the said tract, to Richard Jones who is now and has been since his purchase of the said Andrew, been in possession of the said tract, levied on and sold by the said John Boyd Sheriff as aforesaid to the said Andrew — and whereas the Deed made by the Sheriff to the said Andrew the Butts and bounds of said tract is not specially sett forth so as clearly to ascertain the same and whereas, the said tract of 640 acres whereon the said Richard Jones now lives was the only tract of 640 acres which I the said Robert Hays had a right to, at the time the said Execution was levied and sale made as aforesaid, in that quarter and I being willing that right and Justice may be done, and that the said Richard Jones his heirs and assigns forever should quietly and peaceably enjoy and possess the same free and clear from any Moles =tation or interruption from me my heirs executors or administrators, or from the claim or claims of any person or persons claiming from by through or under me or my heirs, and for the purpose that the Butts and boundaries of the said tract so sold by the Sheriff may be fairly understood and Identified — Let this Indenture witness, that I the Robert Hays for and for the considerations aforesaid and in and for good and valuable considerations recd. from Andrew Jackson the receipt whereof is hereby acknow =ledged hath and by these presents doth relinquish release convey and confirm unto the said Richard Jones his heirs and assigns forever, all that tract or parcel of land — situate lying and being in our county of Davidson on the North Branches of Stones River and about one mile and a half South East of Stoners Lick, and bounded as follows that is to say Beginning at a North west corner of a tract, formerly belonging to the said Robert Hays, which was patented in the name of Stockley Donelson, and now known by Grayson or Bartons tract, at a large black oak which is down, but which stood near to a White oak marked R. B. and a popplar marked R. H. with sundry other letters and figures which corner blackoak, white oak and poplar, stood on the South boundary line of the tract sold by Robert Hays, to Gabriel Enochs, which is the same tract whereon E. Cooper now lives, and the white oak & popplar stands at the South side of E. Coopers fence and on the North side of the road that leads from Stoners lick to Jefferson, then South with Graysons or Bartons line three hundred and twenty poles to a black oak, then west three hundred and twenty poles along the old line to the South west corner of said tract then North along the old line three hundred and twenty poles to the North west corner of the original Survey — then East with the line of the original Survey and with the line of the tract sold by the said, Robert Hays to Gabriel Enochs as aforesaid to the Beginning, containing 640 acres be the same more or less — and the said Robert Hays for himself, his heirs Executors and administrators does covenant and agree to and with the said ~~Sheriff~~ Richard Jones his heirs and assigns that he and Hays the land and premises — together —

with all and singular the appurtenances thereto belonging or appurtaining, well

I John McDowell one of the associate Judges of the Court of Common pleas in and for the County of Allegheny and State of Pennsylvania did on the 16th June 1808 take the acknowledgement of a deed from Robert Bell to Abner Barker and one other deed from Abner Barker & wife to Robert Bell.

I am now called on by Abner Barker to say what past between him and Robert Bell before the signing of the deeds—I do hereby certify to the best of my recollection that before the executing of the deeds. Barker observed to Bell that he wanted no advantage nor did he want any advantage to be taken of him that he Bell had seen and knew both propertys and that he had in his possession his deed from his Brother Thomas Bell to him (Barker) and was as he said packed up in his trunk and could not become at, and that his impression (Barker) was that Thomas Bell in his deed to him had conveyed his intrest in two lots in the Town of Nashville Tennessee and if it turn out so to be that there was two conveyed by Thomas and there was two seperate purchases of lots made in the Town of Nashville by Col. Thomas Bell his father that on signing the deeds he only conveyed to him his intrest in the house and lot on which the house stood as the deed itself fully explained

Yours of the 19th Ultmo came to hand a few days since

I had flatered myself I should not again have been troubled with any more of your Insolence — having refused to answer answer your former letter — in short I had made up my mind to close all correspondance with you — this shall be the last

In your answer to my letter on the subject of patenting the 145 Acres of the Cumberland Farm unpatented — although you well no, you mentioned to me in the presence of Mrs Barker & an other person that the Administrators of your Fathers Estate must do it for me — and I had written you what you said — you in a very Vulgar manner say Mrs Barker the Gentleman nor myself never heard you say any such a thing — I need tel you sir I can prove it — at that time I have no doubt of your good intentions, in paying your proportion of the patenting fees — but I presume you have since discovered you are not in law bound so to do, yet in Justice you well no you and each of the heirs ought to pay their proportion of the expence

I am informed by one of the Gentlemen of the bar of Carlisle that there was not one of the Jury who valued the Cumberland Farm

nor any part of the land was unpatented—but was aprais'd as patented land

I am now fully satisfy'd of your interesting in waiting nearly three months in Pittsburgh for my return from New Orleans it was not alone to get of me the favour of advancing you your proportion of the Cumberland Farm $1292..53 but also to Cozen me out of all or part of my Interest in the Nashville property—your first offer to me was for my Interest in the house & two Lots, your interest in the Indian Country property—which you had the hardyhood to say would be giving me a great bargain, that property I purchased of you for $500 & paid you $200 more than it was worth The next was your Ohio lands—you well no and will do me the Justice to say that any thing I done was with great reluctance—and entirely for your accomodation

I trust no accident has hapend you—if not, I confess I am really at a loss to account for the unfortunate failure in your memory—yet it apears to be a general opinion you have allways been deficient in that faculty—but that you have a nother trate in your caracter that are balances that—rudeness & impudence

Sir I now inclose you copys of Judge McDowells & H. Haskell Esquire Certificates. I trust on reading them your unfortunate memory will be greatly brightened & if you are not calos to all kind of feeling you must blush for the intended stab you have made at my reputation—Sir that is every thing to me—you nor no other man that breaths the breath of life shall triffle with it—and as the Lord lives you shall account to me for the unguarded liberties you have taken

In your Country my reputation might suffer—but in this where you and I are both known there is nothing you could say would injure it

Sir I now say to you as I wrote to your friend Mr. Jackson to inform you—if you think yourself agreived in the exchange of property, I am ready & willing to reconvey the same property I got of you in exchange for my interest in the house & Lot in Nashville—you reconveying to me the same property I conveyd to you in Nashville with the rents & proffits arising therefrom

If you dont accede to this fair and honorable proposition, we hereafter

hold your peace

In this exchange of property your honour to me was pledged, that no advantage should be taken of my ignorance — you knew both the properties, I knew neither — will it be said after this proposition of mine — I wish any advantage — for you packing up my Deed of Conveyance from your brother Thomas to me was premature, and without my knowledge And I now say as I then said on that subject to a number of your friends — it was a liberty you ought not to have taken — my wish was to had it recorded in the State of Ohio — Venango & Crawford Countys before I sent it on to Nashville

Sir it ever has and ever shall be a first principal with me — when ever I find a man with whome I have dealings departing from the truth & has not the fear of god before him, and is not willing to act honestly I use compulsary measures

Sir I am fully prepared to let you no, you have received rents of mine, unaccounted to me for — which I will compel you to do — I have received none of yours nor have I received any of either of the other heirs

I enclose Mr Gibsons Rect. to Mr John Baird Merchant in Nashville he will hand it to you, & Receive mine — I also send you a Copy of Judge McDowell and H. Hacketts Certificates with directions to shew them to Mr Jackson — I also wrote Mr Jackson and inform him you ~~would~~ would shew him my letter to you in answer to the one you say you shewed him you wrote me

The 500 acres of Land was sold for Taxes previous to my having any thing to do with the estate 200 acres of the 819 acre Tract was sold to Paul Fearing the 7th December 1807 the 300. acres was sold previous to that & in your Fathers lifetime

For you made an improper impression on your Friends minds in Cumberland County concerning the pur chase of your brother Thomas property — neither he nor myself thank you for it, and had I have known it in time we never would have had any dealings

I shall never again apply to you for any information with respect to the personal property of your Father — I want my interest in it and no more — and that sir be assured I will have

Your Obt. Svt.
Abner Barker

P.S.

Mr. Jackson had informed me by letter you had previously declared you had purchased both lots of mine is why I wrote here — A. B.

Dear Sir,

Natchitoches June 4th 1811

Military Men, like all Military affairs, are subject to change since my last letter I have changed my Epaulet & my station. I was ordered to take command of this place on the 16th April, one equally as honorable as agreeable situated on the bank of the Red river two hundred Miles above its Mouth, I have one hundred men & Quite a neat little garrison, well fortified against Murguestry & calculated to withstand the attack of one thousand Men with small arms. I will give you some idea of this country, first of its settlement on entering the mouth of the Red River the country on both sides is subject to inundation for sixty five Miles, above its mouth, except a few acres at the mouth of black river thirty miles up. from that the soil emerges from a low swamp into high piney country, except on the River Bank & Generally for the distance of a half or a Mile back it is first Quality River bottom soil of a dark sandy hue. here the inhabitants settle as close as it is possible & raise immense

Quantities of cotton & vie with each other not for the Quantity of pounds but for the Quantity of Bales — the country gets much wealthier as you approach the Rapids & immediately in its neighborhood is not surpassed by any Country I have seen fifty or sixty miles above the River branches into sever forks on all of which the people have settled as thick as if it was one entire Country village, they are principally french enemies to our government & our persons, mean in appearance, dastardly in action, & corrupt in soul, but wealthy & ambitious of wealth, those are the men we are fostering in our bosoms, those are the men that have equal right & equal enjoyment ~~they are~~ with the sou--diest patriots & most virtuous americans, if ever our government acted unwisely it was in suffering those suffering french men to land from "St Jago de Cuba" you no doubt Genl. recollect the fable of the husbandman & the adder it is here applicable & one day or other we shall have to adopt the Robespi-ian plan for beheading frenchmen. it was an humane act but an unfaolitic one, it is impossible to know frenchmen or frenchwomen without living among them, the creole women of this country have never been under the influence of virtue. but surpass the world for intrigue & apparently have it fresh from the court of St Cloud. the married women have their cisisbeos & the single ones their Adorers the latter are rather the most circumspect but it is nothing uncommon for the mother to hunt a bed fellow for their daughter & the brother for the sister. & I can only admire their taste in their generally prefering an american. to one of their tawny country men but sir I have strayed too far from my subject, immediately at this place the pine hills close within a few hundred yards of the river & have as if intended by nature just left room for this village which contains about one hundred or fifty houses not well built being generally single story & mud walls on the opposite of the river is a large Island in the fork of the river fertile & well timbered. the country contains

Good for many hundred Miles above this but is not settled more than twenty — It is bounded on the South east by the Mississippi on the North East by the Ouachita settlements with eighty Miles of pine woods between, on the NoWest by the province of texas in Spain, the line of which is within a few miles of this place or the disputed lands, the division being the Sabine, & on the So.West by the Apelousas & the Attakappas County a considerable Quantity of Wilderness between, generally para & high pine lands, say three days ride or one hundred & twenty Miles, the Spaniards have conquered the Revolutionists after some hard fighting it is said they have twenty thousand men a[illegible] times to prevent farther insurrection; What has become of Reuben Smith young Patterson & their party, I have not been able to learn tho make daily enquiry as I feel for their situation & that of their friends. Call on me Genl. for any information I can give you relative to this County or New Spain, more if possible to some part of the Mississippi or Orleans

Dear Sir,

Yours by the servant was thankfully received. I feel myself under particular obligations to you for the introductory letters you have been so good as to write to your friends. I have no doubt but they will be serviceable to me.

I feel very much gratified that you should approve of the humble labors of the compiler of the Military Instructor; the author's utmost wish was to excite attention to the subject he treated of, and he has been gratified by the rapid sale of his work, notwithstanding he has discovered many typographical errors since it was published.

There are very few of the first edition now on hand, and the compiler will have ready for the press by Christmas, should no accident happen, a second edition much improved; this will prevent my taking on more than one or two copies to shew the members.

I am your much obliged and ever Grateful, Humble Servant

Twickenham October 9th 1811

Dear Uncle

Your favor, by Col. Ward of the 6th of August I received previous to my going to the Tombigbee: and should have wrote you then, only for the very short notice I had, to get in readiness, to set out with the Col. and his Company, as I was not apprised of their going untill they had arrived in Twickenham. I had designed going a different rout, (that is) to have crossed the Tennessee River opposite this; and to have pursued nearly a South course to the waters of the Tombigbee, and to have continued down on the East side of sd River to St. Stephens. But being dissuaded from this by all my friends here, I concluded probably it was safest to keep the beaten tract, and with about 18 or 20 in company we set out from Levi Colberts on the 13th of August in all appearance for a 6 months Campaign, which had like to have been realised, for it was 15 or 16 days before we arrived at the first settlements, when our provisions were nearly exhausted, & the Whiskey quite out — some of our thirsty souls began to be much alarmed, least that dreary looking country might not afford this forced necessary of life, in such abundance as they could wish. I am much pleased with a great proportion of that country, ~~though~~ the present settlements I think much the least desirable. But immediately above commences the richest country of lands I ever, which continues almost to the source of the Tombigbee, and in many parts finely watered, which combined with a most salubrious and healthful atmosphere, and a Climate that is so congenial to the culture of every article that can give Luxury and Wealth to any Country, and a River of the easiest Navigation of any other in the world – makes this (I have no hesitation in saying) the most desireable Country I have ever Seen if Settled by civilized people.

I left in that Country your old friend Colo. McClung, his Brother Hugh & Mr. Williams industriously exploring every part of the Country. The Colo. was some what disappointed at this sale, owing to the Country on the East side of the river not being prepared for Sale, in which he designs Settling. This part it is supposed will be offered for Sale in the course of 10 or 12 months, by which time there will be a road opened the nearest rout to the upper end of the Shoals – and perhaps you can then make it convenient to visit that Country – if you continue in the notion of moving, I think you would be pleased with the Country. Society is in a most miserable condition in that Country – nothing but Jealousy, Slander, & envy – the most of the inhabitants having lately emigrated there for the purpose of becoming petitioners, each is endeavouring to aggrandise himself on the ruins of the other. The Town of Mobile was daily expected to be delivered to the United States. My love to aunt, I am Yours Sincerely Russelville.

My dear General

By the last Mail I had the pleasure of receiving your favor of the 2d inst. and shall hope to hear from you again in a day or two by Mr. Ogilvie whose furlough from this place will by that time have expired, and we are all very anxious to have him at his post. I hope Nashville has profited of his visit [illegible] such characters visit us but seldom; I shall endeavour to detain him here till your arrival at our races, which commence on the first Wednesday in November and not October as you say my last letter expressed. it was my mistake.

If I can possibly get over to your purse & sweepstake I shall certainly do so but my situation is at this time so peculiar that it is impossible to say when

I shall be at leisure for a week at a time — I have stables ready for you, and shall expect you to bring us some good Nags; let them be the best you can lay your hands upon. I have three training but suspect I shall do but badly in the business.

All our members of Congress are off and I presume Mr. Madison's first bulletin will be the most important state paper since the Decla-ration of Independence: much will depend no doubt upon whether old George is alive or dead at the last period of our information; for if he lives Mr. Jean Bull will shake his horns & perhaps attempt to run a muck at us — for this we are not completely prepared to be sure but I trust in God that we shall notwithstanding make a respectable stand. — I like the election of Geo. W. Campbell because I think he is good Game, and will take the pits freely. — the first word that is said will let me into what is intended, for we have no alternative between War, submission & perpetual embargo — and as no American can or dare submit; War or Embargo is the question. — I think a little blood letting would relieve the system and therefore at present I should prefer hearing that the Guerrier & Presidents had been alongside, but whatever our private opinions we must still hear what is said by the Wise men in the East. — By the time we meet it is likely something may transpire to give a clue to the ultimatum.

Present Mrs. Butler & myself to Mrs. Jackson most respectfully, we have a snug little room ready for you. I must see you at Russelville on the first Wednesday in November. In the mean time and at all times believe me your very sincere friend

Dear Uncle

I had the pleasure of receiving yours of Septr. 1st. It gave me the most heart felt satisfaction my dear Sir to hear that you, Aunt and our friends enjoy good health for my part I have the greatest reason to be thankful for I have better health than I have enjoyed at this season for several years, although it has been sickly in the neighborhood, but very few deaths and the Country generally cannot be said to be sickly by any means – As to a probability of your having health in this Country you can be the better Judge when you visit it – I am in hopes your business will permit that this fall. If Cousin J. Hays & Mr. Wm. Butler have still a thought of moving to the lower Country I would advise them to come with you. I really think there is a good opening at present for both professions – I have not yet been to the Bay. As soon as I do, will give you as good a description of it as I will be able. I intend to go to the Attakapas Church in a few days, when there, will make enquiry respecting Doctor Mc. Lappington from what I can learn here there is not much prospect of geting any thing out of him –

Cousin Jno. Hutchings inclosed an Ac/ to me against Racy – I have spoken to him respecting it and he had not the $ with me and have since been to see him but he was absent as soon I see him again will present the a/c he acknowledged he owed something, he is very much embarrassed but he said he does not refuse paying his old debts as far as he is able — the boy of Mr. K. Wilkinsons has had the ague & fever for some time so that I could not offer him for sale, but will take him to the Parish with me — Our Crop of Cotton is as good as could be expected we will make I suppose about fifty bales — the price I fear will be very low, I intend getting into the way of Sugar Cane this fall, Cane planted this fall if good will produce six to one next year, I will plant about three acres this fall, in the second fall will have a fair crop — I am told only midling Cane will produce 1500 lb Sugar to the acre and in forty days some say only 25 — Sixty Hogsheads of Sugar can be manufactured by twenty five hands, the Culture is attended with about as much labor as the Culture of Corn and much less than Cotton — a profit of 50 pct may be calculated on the Capital employed — for besides the 1500 lb Sugar there is the Taffia and molasses — Land could be got here now on pretty good terms — I intend going over to my mothers as soon as possible — I rec'd the paper inclosed in your letter but fear nothing can be done — I have employed an overseer to go in at January I cannot leave this untill that time, but have written to my mother to buy what property she will be obliged to keep and that I will assist her in paying for it. — whenever your leisure will permit, I will be much gratified my dear Uncle you would write — and direct to Carlen Settlement St. Marys Parish — You will please give my sincere love and respects to Aunt Jackson. and other friends and relations who may enquire for me —

I remain dear Sir

My dear General,

As your great sweepstake is still on hand, I have not allowed myself to expect you over: But as soon as that question is settled I must count on you every day. In the mean time let me insist on your sending the Horses forthwith which are destined for this Turf: As you have Mr. Hutchings with you Dinwiddie might be spared to come over, and the Horses should be here to rest a few days previous to the Races which commence tomorrow week. I shall expect Decatur and at least one more that can be counted on, we have a much better show of Nags over here than last year, and they have been so bantering and jeering me that I must beat them if possible — Stables are prepared and Corn & Oats on hand waiting your

Dear Genl, Washington City, Nov 28th 1811

It is now late at night and I have just returned from a meeting of the Committee on our Foreign Relations, of which I am a member—If the opinion of that Committee is to prevail I may say the Rubicon is pass'd,— With a full determination to report in favor of actual War at a given period, we for the present, shall recommend filling up the ranks of the present military establish=ment which will make ten thousand, in addition we recommend, the raising ten thousand more regulars, also the acceptance of 50,000 Volunteers, detachments of the Militia & arming the Merchantmen &c the above, I am authorised to say meets fully the approbation of the Executive, and indeed the coöperation of that department in ulterior measures was promised, before a Majority of the Committee could be brought to so mild a Course,— and, sir, I must say that I as one member wanted a pledge as to the application of the force before I could heartily join in raising it — and still I could not think of War untill I saw something like ~~the~~ means provided. Rely on one thing, we have War or Honorable peace before we adjourn — certain great personages have produced a state of things which will bring them down from their high places, If there be honest men enough to tell ~~the~~ truth loudly —

On the business named in yr letter you shall hear from me next week at present my account would not be satisfactory — The contents of this may be no secret — but it is not written for publication — I am &c

My dear Sir

The pleasant acquaintance which I had the satisfaction to maintain with you during my residence in Tennessee renders it unnecessary for me to offer an apology for obtruding on your notice the particulars of a recent affair of honor, in which I officiated as second to one of the gentlemen engaged. Indeed it is so frequently happening on such occasions, that facts are misrepresented, either with or without, an intention of producing an incorrect impression that I feel particularly anxious, that you should know the circumstances from one who witnessed them precisely as they occurred. During the late election contest, the most violent effort was made to prevent the reelection of [illegible] Poindexter Esquire, as our representative in the Congress of the United States. The means employed by the federalists were deemed by Mr Poindexter to be of a personal nature highly indecorous & insulting to his feelings. Among those who were most active & important in the execution of [illegible] to promote the views of the federal party & the election of Robert Williams was Abijah Hunt Esquire Merchant of Natchez. The Election resulted in favour of Mr Poindexter by by a majority of 1366 votes. This part of the drama, was followed by an immediate demand, of Mr Hunt, to come to an eclaircissement on the field of honor, with Mr Poindexter for the personal injuries & insults which he believed he had sustained from Mr Hunt, during the [illegible] canvass. The invitation was accepted, & the parties met on the western margin of the Mississippi on Friday the 7th instant. Wm C Mead Esq late an officer in the army of the United States & Lieutenant James Peyton were the friends of Mr Poindexter & I at his particular request attended him as Surgeon. E Bradish & Elijah Smith Esquires were the friends of Mr Hunt and Doctor Dunbar attended him in that character of Surgeon. At four o'clock [illegible] the parties took their posts, at the distance of ten paces, and at the first exchange of fire, Mr Hunt received the ball of his Antagonist through the abdomen of which wound he expired on the Monday Evening following. It is due to Mr Poindexter to remark, that from the commencement to the close of this unfortunate affair he behaved with the greatest coolness and composure, and observed the strictest attention to etiquette and the principles of honor —

It will afford me much pleasure to hear from you, when your leisure will permit, and I shall take equal pleasure, in communicating to you, the interesting events [illegible] which may occur in this Country — Make if you please my best respects acceptable to your amiable Lady — and accept Sir for yourself the assurances of my perfect esteem & consideration

Division orders—

The Period has arived that calls for the energies of the nation; our government have been compelled by the conduct and acts of great Britain to take a stand, that must lead to actual war [illegible] if great Britain should not immediately retrace her steps, and repair the many insults & multiplied injuries that we have so long & so patiently endured [illegible] from her [illegible] to prepare for this event it is necessary, that we should place ourselves in a state of readiness to support our government and with a strong hand wrest that Justice from her, that in a state of peace she has so long and so unjustly withheld from us— It is at length discovered that indecisive and wayward measures will not do— our president in his communication to congress has taken that firm and manly stand worthy the chief magistrate of america and which is necessary to preserve our national honor [illegible] and it will be the pride and boast of every lover of his country to support the government in every measure it may take in ~~[illegible]~~ pursuit of that Justice that is due to us as a neutral and independant nation— In the west on the wabash excited by some secrete influence the savage Tomhawk and scalping knife is raised, the blow is struck war savage war has been commenced, and we have to regret, the loss of many of our brave countrymen who on the 7th instant fell bravely by the hands of the deceitful and ruthless savages— The blood of our murdered fellow citizens must be avenged— Governor Harrison for the want of sufficient force has been compelled to retreat he must be aided— I have wrote [illegible] of this state, that on his call on me, I will march with [illegible] 500 men to his support— ~~[illegible]~~ in the patriotic ardor of my division I have implicit confidence, that in ten days, that number by Voluntary inlistment can be marched— I have confidence that all those who tendered their services, to the general government as on a former occasion and particularly the independent companys of infantry and riffle corps, will now come forward and renew it— you will see from the Presidents communication to congress that he recommends that provisions be made for the acceptance of Volunteer corps whose patriotic ardor may court a participation in urgent services you will therefore without delay place your Brigade in the best possible state of readiness, to furnish your quota of such requisition as may be made of me by the President of the united States thro the Governor of this State, instill into the minds of your officers a proper attention to discipline and encourage as much as in your power lies Volunteer corps sufficient to act in urgent services— recommend to your officers, to meet every fortnight for drill by this means they will acquire a knowledge of tactics themselves which when acquired they can easily defuse thro their men as early as practible make known to me the state of your Brigade— the number of Volunteers inrolled and ready for duty— should Governor Harrison invite me to his aid, I shall make known, by a general order, the mode of equipment the time and place of Rendezvous— I have appointed Major John Coffee of Rutherford my second aid in the room of Col^o. Purdy resigned— and all officers are commanded and required to obey him as such

Dear Genl — December 24th 1811

I know you must be extremely solicitous to be informed of the proceedings of Congress; and nothing would give me more satisfaction than to be able not only to inform you of what we are doing, but what will be the result of our deliberations — At this time the House of Representatives are engaged on common subjects waiting for the Report of the Committee on our Foreign Relations, on four subjects — One for an increase of the Regular military Establishment, another for a Volunteer Corps, a third authorising the president to call out detatchments of Militia & a fourth authorising our Merchantmen to arm — Being a member of that Committee, I believe I can venture to say that Bills on the two subjects first named will be reported on the 26th instant, the principles have been settled in Committee and on tomorrow the Bills will be drawn — In that way we have agreed to spend our Christmas — The first Bill will provide for the raising of 15,000 regular troops in addition to the present military establishment, which will when the enlistments for the present establishment are filled up amount to twenty five thousand regular forces — To encourage enlistments a bounty in land, from 100 to 160 acres will be offered, a bounty in money of $16 besides the usual pay & rations — term of enlistment five years — I have no doubt, but great exertions will be used in the house to destroy or diminish the land bounty, but I hope it will be without effect — It requires, but little reflection to shew, that the Western Country at least will be benefited by it, and I believe the whole United States
The Volunteer Bill, will authorise the acceptance by the president of 50,000 men, in companies not less than 60 nor more than 80 in number are to nominate their Capts. to the president by the [illegible] will, will authorise the acceptance by the president of 50,000 men, in companies not less than 60 nor more than 80 ~~men~~ in number — they are to nominate their Captain & subalterns — The Majors Col.s & Generals to be appointed & commissioned by the president, no higher officer than a Brigadier General will be be attatched to the Volunteers — In addition to the pay heretofore offered to Volunteers, some Honorary mark of Distinction will be conferr'd on officers & soldiers after their discharge, such as a set of arms used by them in service & with suitable inscriptions – I name these things to you, believing that you can turn them to your Countrys service – As a majority of the Committee above named are opposed to the appointment of officers for the Volun-teer corps by the different states, you will readily see the propriety of your communicating with me or some other member from our State freely on this subject – and rest assured, that in no instance shall private feelings influence my conduct and on all occasions I shall pay that regard to your opinions which is due to Superior military information –

I have with great pleasure, receiv'd a newspaper containing Genl Jackson's Division orders, they breath no doubt the sentiments of my District and what added much to my gratification was the circumstance of their arrival a few days after I had in a speech stated what I believed the sentiments of my Con-stituents were – while others were speaking doubtingly about the sentiments of their Districts, I had only to ~~pull~~ pull out, my Genls orders – as I often said to shew what my constituents thought & felt for he had confirmed every thing I had said on the subject – I took the liberty of transmitting the paper containing those orders to the President – I firmly believe, that G Britain must recede or this Congress will declare war – If the latter takes place The Canadas & Floridas will then be the theatres of our offensive operations – If War is not resorted to, one

Canadas & Floridas will ~~the~~ be the Theatres of our offensive operations — If War is not resorted to, one thing is certain to my mind, this nation or rather their representatives will be disgraced —

You may use this letter in the most public manner (Newspapers excepted) — I wish the people of my District to have as early an opportunity or others of knowing what is doing here If from my peculiar situation as a member of a Committee I can get a little a head in point of information, it may in some degree remedy inconveniences growing out of the remoteness of their situation—

permit me to remark, that this Country is now in a situation which requires not only the best exertions of our National Councils, but every citizen should now step forward & in some shape promote his Country's cause— Our Fathers fought for and bequeathed liberty & Independence to ~~us~~ their children— shall they perish in our hands? No,— A firm & manly effort now, will enable us to transmit to our children the rich inheritance unimpaired—

Sir Seeing your Division orders of in the examiner of Decr 6th 1811. I have requested the officers under my comand to call their companies together (agreeably to the requisitions of your said order) and know thereby what number of volunteers could be raised in my Regiment—

In consequence of which request I have received the following returns (three Captains in the first Battalion having made no return they being absent, but I have the fullest confidence that I shall recive handsome returns from each of these companies immediately on their Capts. return home) viz—

First Battalion

of the united States, to be in readiness at any time when called on, to serve our Country —

I have not a doubt but the volunteers above named will march at any time to any place on the Continent in defence of their Country —

I have established a Military School in the bounds of my Regiment, to which all the volunteer officers above have subscribed, and I hope they will improve much thereby, as the teacher (Mr. Thomas Hubbard) is an old revolutionary Character and who has the good of his Country at heart, and whose Spirit is reanimated with flame of Seventy six

Washington City 21 Decr 1811

Dear Sir,

Your favour of the 30 ult. was duly recd. — The cases of Capt. Richards and Mr Crawford, therein noticed shall be duly attended to when brought forward, and their respective claims supported, so far as justice, and the nature of the demands, will render the same proper.

The public prints will give you the ordinary proceedings of both houses — By them you will see we are raising large regular armies — and making preparations for war — and talk a great deal about taking Canada &c. — Some are in earnest in all this — & others, it is believed are not — The Government, no doubt, mean what the message of the Executive stated to the nation — that it is high time to take a firm position & maintain it — though war should be the consequence — From present appearances it is extremely difficult to perceive how war can be avoided, without degrading the national character, still lower, than it now is — which certainly cannot be desireable — For there is no ground to expect G. Britain will abandon her system of depredation on our commerce — or her habitual violations of the personal rights of our citizens in the impressment of our Seamen — It is understood & believed here, that Mr. Foster has no powers, whatever to negotiate respecting those great subjects of complaint on our part — unless it be to receive propositions, & forward them to his Court — and it is probable, our Government will make no further propositions to that nation unless she changes her course of measures towards us by revoking her orders &c. violating our neutral rights — under these circumstances the prospect is very gloomy, and a rupture between the two countries seems more than probable — To prepare for such event is certainly the duty of Congress — There is no doubt, at present, but the regular military force, will be increased to 25,000 men, or more — authority will also be given to raise volunteers — call out the Militia &c — probably Merchant vessels will be permitted to arm — and our present naval force fitted out & prepared for service — but what will be the final result of all this cannot, at present, be determined — Many, who vote for armies — a navy, & all other other expenditures, will vote against war with England! time alone will develope their views —

Please present my compliments to Mrs. Jackson, & our friends generally — in that quarter, and believe me with due consideration,

Sir, Your most obedt.

Dear Sir

I recd your note of yesterday covering Major McDonalds letter to you on the subject of the transfer of the music; — It is certainly correct that a volunteer cannot be transferred into the regular service — and the only thing can be done is an engagement to furnish two recruits so soon as they can be enlisted — I conversed with Capt Kingsly last evening on the subject and I expect but little difficulty ~~on the subject~~, your note to him that you will have on cause to be enlisted for, and transferred to the corps to which the music belongs will I believe be perfectly satisfactory — and I have no doubt, if the bounty is furnished, we can enlist two men before we go — will you write Captn Kingsly; and receive his written answer and transfer of the music, on the terms that may be compatible with Major McDonalds letter to the Captain and the letter to you — obtain the transfer and the conditions I think I can have complied with in two days if the bounty is directed to be paid by the quartermaster —

Sir

From the acquaintance with which I was honoured with you during your late Stay at Port Gibson I take the liberty of Introducing to you my Brother Mr James Moore. who on his way to Pennsylvania will probably give you a Call. In that Case I must request you to aid him with a little advice with respect to the Management of His Horse Rodney. on his Journey. call him to an account for his Capers in the Wilderness and Send him On. He takes with him a Negro Boy. whom I have directed him to leave in your Care and must request the favour of you to Send him to me by the first Opportunity that you may think a proper One Such an One as you would Send a boy of your Own by. he is a boy I esteem very much but a Great Rascal in fact. they are both Rare birds. Two such never went through the Wilderness together I know — I have another favour to ask of you If James should Come or tire his Horse that you will furnish him with Such a Horse as will carry him to Philadelphia and his draft on me for the price shall be paid at Sight —

Nashville, Jany. 30th 1812.

Dr. Sir,

I had expected to have seen you at this place; not having the pleasure to do so, I have taken the liberty to trouble you with this letter.

In the event that a volunteer force should be raised, there is no question, I fancy, but that you will command the division which goes from this ~~place~~ state; and as I have always been resolved to quit the gown for the sword, whenever the sword was to be used, I mean, in some form or other, to be in that corps. I can and will raise a company from my own county; but a more eligible situation would be that of Aid to the General. Now the truth is, I know of nothing that could recommend me to such a place, but the natural inclination which all young men feel, or ought to feel, to advance themselves in the world, has induced me to say to you, that if you should lack an officer of this kind, and should be able to find none better than myself, that I should deem myself honored by your approbation. I beg you not to answer this application, or to take any other notice of it than merely to remember that if you should think proper to use me, I am entirely at your service.

As soon as the bill for raising volunteers has passed, and we have learnt its details, I shall do myself the pleasure to come and see you, that I may get your advice and instructions about raising and organizing ~~them~~ as many as possible of them. For I do not content myself with raising a single company: I wish to bring out the largest possible force from this state: and for that purpose I mean to exert myself throughout the sphere of my influence. I have a strong hope that a regiment may be raised from the southern counties in which I have practised; and if it is not done, it shall not be for the want of my exertions.

If there should be an expedition to the Canada's I shall make an experiment of my capacity to use the ~~sword~~ pen as well as the sword. I mean to preserve a journal of the operations of the army; and to give a history of such transactions as are worthy of being remembered. — You Sir, who feel a generous wish to see young men come forward by their own intrinsic strength, will not smile at this presumption. You recognise the principle that to mount the eminence of distinction, the votary for fame must dare every thing. I deem it more honorable to fail in honorable efforts than to make no attempt at all to drag myself from obscurity. I think with Tacitus, that every man should aim at doing something worthy of being written, or at writing something worthy of being ~~written~~ done.

Respectfully &c.

Dr Madam

your letter of the 11th of January is now before me, I have duly observed its contents, and am sorry indeed that an illiberal world has prevented you from buying in Jack-

The negro fellows that I brought thro with me owing to their exposure in the wilderness have all been sick and were the will neither of them is such that I could recommend to you nor could I think of selling such to you — I have delayed one week — answering your letter to see whether I could meet with a fellow to buy that would suit you, as yet I can hear of none for sale that I could buy — and had I such a negro, I am fear--full, it would (from the convulsed state of the Earth and water from the frequent shocks of Earthquake) be difficult to obtain a passage for him down the river — few Boats will venture the passage of the Mississippi this spring — and from the last shocks here, being so violent it is to be feared that a vast many of the Boats that are on the river is lost — I am therefore fearfull, that it will not be in my power shortly to send you one down — but I have a fellow, that ranaway from the Notchey — in last Nov-called Jesse — he is a valluable fellow, at least such he ought to be he cost $500 here — he is in the neighbourhood of the Notchey — Capt Hunter, Mr Tiggs, or Mr Hard-who live in the Notcheys knows him also Mr Fleming — of Jackey will go down—it is highly probable he can be got, and if so take him and keep him—if he should prove to be such a negro as you want you can buy him if not you can keep him untill another can be got—Mr Fleming of Natchez (Tavern keeper) told Mr Steel -ching that he had heard that such a negro had been taken up by a boat, on the bank of the Mississippi-some where above Natchez—he promised to go and see the negro, if it was him that he would take him into possession for me—If Jackey goes down for him and can send him this letter will be full authority for taking him into possession—Capt Hunter Mr Tegg or Mr Fleming will give him any aid in their power in regaining him—and I have no doubt but he can be got if Jackey will make search for him, and I will freely pay any expense that may accrue in getting him—your daughter Netty is well—she is a fine traveller—she passed the wilderness without a complaint or murmur—she is now at school in good health and spirits—from a letter I have rec'd from Donelson since I reached home. I expect he is with you—if so tell him to write me—I wish much to see him—and say to him when there he can easily ride here, and I shall expect him to come up—at any rate to write me that I may know where to write him—

Your sister and all your friends are well, but very much alarmed, with the frequent shocks of—Earthquakes, some of which have been so severe as to throw down chimneys, and to crack brick walls—but I hope these alarms will subside, and the Shocks cease here but I am fearfull, that the inhabitants on the west side of the Mississippi, in the neighbourhood of New madrid and the little prararie have suffered—

Miss Catherine writes you by this mail and your sister Joins me in good wishes for the health and happiness of you and your family to whom we beg you to make our best complements and with sincere esteem believe me to be your

Friend Andrew Jackson

P.S.

I flatter myself, that your Brothers William and John and myself, will settle you in this Country. I have had some conversation with them on this subject, as soon as my business will permit I shall see them fix upon something permanent and write you—— say to Jacky as soon as I get his horses back well I shall send him down by the first opportunity— present our complements to Mr Knox and Lady to Mr Green Betsy and family, and to Mr Vandoren and Sophia—

Dear Genl, Washington, February 12th 1812

On this day I receiv'd yr friendly communication. & could I be with you, I could talk over many matters & things, much to advantage, perhaps, to the community but prudence forbids to commit to paper, fears, doubts conjectures, suspicions &c &c — The Bill for raising 25,000. men has been a Law of the Land for about six weeks, and wonderfull, not a single officer except the Commander in Chief is appointed — this is Henry Dearborn — is there nothing rotten in Denmark — The Cabinet are in daily Council Are they not examining the papers in Wilkinsons Case to see whether he shall not be second in Command, and of course the Commander of the Southern & Western Armies — Should this be the case, it will damp the spirit of the Nation much — This is mere conjecture and until I saw the Intelligencer of to-day I inclined to a belief that, the British Minister & the Cabinet were negociating — The Volunteer Bill for accepting the service of 50,000 men has become a Law & the States are to officer these troops of course, that is a matter not to be acted on here, — as soon as I can get a Copy of this Law I will send it to you — In West, Tennessee — We are only entitled to the following officers in the 12,000 — One Lieut Col. 5 Captns 4 first Lieuts 4 Second ditto — 5 ensigns — From all the applications made a selection has been made in the manner practised on such occasions and the following will no doubt be the appointments

Wm P Anderson Col. Thomas Claiborne Robert Butler, Robert Desha Junior of Sumner Alexander Gray of Carthage, Francis Armstrong of Franklin County Captains —

Mr Reed of Nashville, Tilden Day Col of Sumner Don Carolus Dixon of Smith, Isaac Walton of Smith, first Lieuts. James H Gamble of Davidson, Avery Clark of Robertson Mr Smith of Rutherford, (Bennetts son) Ensigns and some other not now recollected Second Lieuts

Mr Harman Hays could not be appointed more than an Ensign — There is a vacancy for a Surgeon's Mate, in my District To whom can this be given? write to me, I shall keep it vacant untill I am advised —

poor Crawfords claim has been rejected at the War office it is however to be brought before the Committee of Claims I shall appear before them in propria persona & endeavor to force it thro, of which I have strong hopes if I fail there I will rally in the house & if I fail there I shall curse the patrio=tism of men, who talk of War while they suffer the old soldier to starve for bread. For my part, I should think as well of the unnatural son, who should suffer his own father to die for food, which he had the power of furnishing as I can of men who will re=fuse to support the Revolutionary Invalids to whose exertions they owe their present elevation & prosperity—

This Congress will do more harm or good than any that has preceeded for several years—how things will end God only knows, I am sure no man here can tell, how this session will end—For my part I shall endeavor to pursue a consistent course, and one which shall in my opinion promote the prosperity of the country A Seat in Congress at present, is too responsible a station to be even tolerably pleasant—

a Bill for Classing & arming the whole body of the Militia has failed in the house of Representatives, it was by three votes only. a Bill is now before us which will probably pass for arming them only — I was in favor of the first & of course shall vote for the latter, altho' it is only half doing what ought to be done —

Charles Dunsmore Esquire has been the subject of our conversation between the Secretary at War, Mr Poindexter & myself — on that Mr Poindexter gave him a severe dressing, & I shall in a day or two repeat it —

I am much gratified at the disposition shewn by the Citizens of my District in Volunteering their services in behalf of their Country. It does them much honor, and I confess I feel my own pride increased in consequence of it. No [illegible] Man in Congress can say, that his constituents have stepped forward in half so magnanimous a manner — to represent such a District would be an Honor to any man and you may rest assured, that my every exertion has been & shall be used to demonstrate to them, that however unqualified I am to be usefull, I am not deficient in a disposition to be so —

Shall we have War? What is the question you want answered — So do I — I thought some time ago, there was no doubt — But, if in six weeks only one man out of 25'000 is furnished, how long will it take to furnish 25,000 — See Mr Gallatin's Budgett, it talks, of Stamp duties, excises, Direct Taxes &c &c — Did it not make its appearance at an unfortunate moment?

Mr Bacon the Chairman of the Committee of Ways & Means has just left my room and I now see a dreadfull strom a little a head — He says he will push his Tax Bills as hard & as fast as possible — I say to him, the question of War plainly & distinctly, but shall go in front. In what a situation would this Country be should a heavy system of Internal taxes be imposed and payment enforced — when the people of the United States were not compelled to have recourse to them for the purpose of avenging injuries inflicted by Foreign Nations — or in other words, in case we do not go to War — Would there not be danger of such a system becoming permanent? There is great intriguing for the Presidency going on. It seems to me that Mr Madisons situation is a very delicate one, but more of this by & by. You have heard of the Newyork Mammoth Canal which the Legislature of Tennessee reque-sted their members in Congress to sup-port support. Good Easy men, did they know that Dewitt Clinton lives in Newyork! that this was a mere electioneering hobby & in itself imprac-ticable. I presume had they known these things, they would hardly have wished us to support a project which would cost the U States ten millions of Dollars and by which no other purpose could be answered, except to increase the power of the northern Section of the Union. I shall at all times respect the opinions of the Legisla= =ture of Tennessee, but in this instance they are no doubt mistaken – and as I am the representative of the people of [illegible] espe[illegible] I shall look to their interests and act upon my own responsibility, for I am very far from thinking that my constituents would be satisfied, were I to do wrong I have no other apology than that the Assembly told me or requested me to do so – You will readily discover that this letter

Nashville 12th of February 1812

Sir

I have again endeavoured to identify my 1000 acre tract of land on Marrowbone surveyed by Mr. George Walker, and believe from Mr. Walker's letter to you on this subject, and Russel Gowers affidavit now filed with the commissioner (he was one of the chain carriers) that it will be impossible to find my land, I have therefore determined on endeavouring to obtain a warrant & have filed my claim with the commissioner for West Tennessee, he informs me that I must procure the affidavit of Mr. Walker the Original Surveyor, stating that he cannot find it, and from his letters I presume he cannot. Mr. Searcy the Clk to the commissioner tells me that a letter from you to Mr. Walker would have the desired effect in inducing Mr. Walker to take the trouble to make his affidavit before some justice of the peace in Kentucky and transmit it to you or Judge McNairy with whom I have left the management of my business. Did I not live at so great a distance, I would not sir trouble you thus. You will sir confer a singular favor on me if by writing you can obtain Mr. Walkers affidavit. Judge McNairy can furnish a copy of Yowers affidavit which will afford a form & the substance too of Mr. Walker can take the Oath, which may be transmitted to him in your letter. If you sir will take the trouble to do this business for me & as soon as possible I will thank you

Sir

Mr. Jno. Coffee communicated to me the other day some information relative to the acct. of W. H. Green, before you from which I am fearfull there has been something in that letter I wrote you & Messrs Hall and Smith, that has given offence not having a copy of that letter, and having written it in a hurry, if any expression or idea is contained therein calculated to touch the feelings of either you or the other gentlemen I do not recollect it and I can assure you that if there is any such, it has inadvertently been introduced without any intention, far be it from me, in any situation to make use of any expressions calculated to injure the feelings of gentlemen acting as arbitrators, and particularly those for whom I have the highest veneration and respect, as is the case in the present instance for this reason I trouble you with this letter at the present moment to state to you what gave rise to the letter I wrote ~~you~~ the other day —

I did find from looking over all the accounts of the shipment of cotton from here to Neworleans and the expence of Negroes, that Mr Greens account exceeded them greatly — the highest expence of any that did accrue during the time we were engaged in the Mercantile transactions was (including provisions hands and return expence) two hundred and fifty dollars, that Mr Greens acct provisions and hands, furnished except a steersman (for he had on board a number of Negroes) amounts to three hundred and Eighteen dollars and 75/100 twenty five of being deducted for difference of Vallue for a horse leaves the amount still greater than any sum that any Boat load of Cotton ever costs us, I also found from examining the accts of Negroes sent to Markett that the expence never averaged more from here than fifteen dollars a head except one wench and three children, who had been subject to the fits remained better than six months in the Notchey, the cost with her children Twenty five dollars, finding his acct so exorbitant, and in lumping charges without any Specification, I did not think that Justice to myself would permit of me admitting his account with=out Vouchers or Specifications such as would in your oppinions when Specifically Stated, the Sum paid & the object to which applied, that it was Just and rea=sonable that it should be admitted, and that I by the Terms contained in the proposition to buy was—bound to pay it. I did think and still do think—that where a Special copartnership is formed for a particular purpose particular agreement entered into as in the present instance, that the property is to be taken to a certain Markett, and the partner deviates from his agreement and in=structions as in the present instance and thereby incurs heavy and uncomputed expence— that un=less he is able to shew, that this was owing to some unavoidable occurrence, and the expence in=curred thereby such as could not be avoided under existing circumstances that the partner is not by the rules of law Justified on reasonable for such expenses, and particularly that the acting partner in the above case ought to shew that he has actually and for the benefit of the firm laid out and expend the sums exhibit =ed in his acc^t, for this reason when it was submitted I did remark, that I should require vouchers or parti =cular specifications, such as would enable you to Judge under existing circumstances, that the speci =fied sum had been properly applied to the use of the firm, I did see that you were about to take a different view of the subject, and would leave the thing inconclusively settled as it respected the hire of the negroes, and was about to conclude the sub=ject without any specifications, that would put it out of my power even where I had proof to correct the account, when by specifications made to amount to the sum claimed by him, Justice to myself and family and creditors, forbade me to yield to such a course, and I am sure you must have mistaken me if ever it was understood to consent to such a rule by which the settlement was to be condu =ced — I claimed the right of having either vouchers shewing the payments of particular sums, or such specifications as is usual and necessary in all cases of accounts, and particularly in such an account as this, leaving you to be the Judge of its Justness and propriety — I had further made a statement of what sum would be necessary to have laid in a sufficient supply of provisions and covered all necessary expense and when this is done, taking no notice of the time the Negroes have been hired out, or the reduction of their expence by sales, and one having run away, from which statement, there is a ballance of three hundred and forty dollars — and from every enquiry I have made on the subject, that fifteen dollars per head is about the usual expence, and finding this to amount including the amount of the Price of the Boat, and not taking into view the children at the breast, it makes the cost on each negro $44-66 2/3 — this as I am advised is more than double what is usual, therefore necessary to be particularly set forth how it has accrued, and whether (if it has accrued at all) it has arisen in such a way as the situation in which I stand as a purchaser is bound for. These reasons induced me to write the Gentlemen — arbitrating the acct the other day — I will here state the view of expence I took ~~of the subject~~ three months provision was talked of as necessary to be laid in as an out fit — I have thus stated the subject you can see how far it wears the appearance of being Just — and here I will remark, that finding there would be a great Loss on the cotton Bot of Smith these negroes were bought, and to indemnify us from the Loss thereby sustained & agreed on by all concerned that industry and economy must be used to obtain the object — now Sir I take the charges for the out fit and see from the prices of provisions in this country then whether it would not lay in a sufficient supply for three months — let us take the soldiers ration for the Basis — there was 25 grown Negroes with two sucking children 11

February 29, 1819

they always count with the mother – then say 25 for three months will take 1125 lb Bacon this at the then selling price say 16th of May ~~[illegible]~~ 6 1/100 — $67.50 50 Bushels of corn meal will be more than sufficient we will say however to have enough for this — 25 add 57.50, to make up and lay in Mr Greens supply … 57.50 this 3 months will takes us up to the 16th of August – another three months will take us up to the time or nearly so, that Mr H. [illegible] the Negroes at the Natchez – they are now there and let us take his letter for the price of Bacon which is 12 1/2 cents – then say 1125 lb Bacon at 12 1/2 cents — — — — — 140.62 1/2 50 bushels of Meal at 75 cents — 37.50 Mr Greens Board for four months in the Town after he left his Boat at $5 pr week — 80 let us add fifty dollars more for his expence — 50 let us give $60 for clothing (there was 13 wenches one [illegible] each the fellows [illegible] naked) — 60 let us add $160 for Steermans Doctors bill and any extra provisions coming down the river — 160 this makes an agregate of this sum — 678.12 1/2 leaving a ballance of his account unaccounted for of $340.6 1/4 – now I cannot see for my soul how he has properly, and agreeable to the intention of the partners economically, for the necessary support expended this ballance of 340 $ – hence resulted to my view from my first objections to Mr Greens account the propriety of specifications or vouchers particularly –

as I do believe I am in the reach of proof to shew that sum of this money whenever the specifications are made, are such as the owners or partners except Mr Green ought not to pay — I will ask if Mr Green chose to give ten dollars per month to a dray man to hall water for his negroes unemployed would such an item be thought reasonable, or just — or suppose Mr Green had given a mantua maker — say two dollars for each habit when he had three negroes with him that could make their own clothes and that of the others would the arbitrators say that it was reasonable or just that I should pay it standing as I do as a purchaser — or even as a partner — I put these cases for example — suppose he had expended in fine muslin and silk — for the negro one hundred dollars would you say that ~~it~~ it was reasonable or right that I should pay it — hence results the reason and justice to my mind for a particular specification — and as I thought would have been called on for, ~~as~~ as well as for the time of the hire of the negroes, and to whom hired — I will make one simily as to the acting partner in a special partnership as ours and for a special purpose, deviating from his instructions and agreement and incurring expence ~~and~~ thereby, for your consideration and reflection — let us recollect that by special agreement these negroes were to go to a certain markett and there was to have been sold for cash — instead of selling them for cash Mr Green had sold them for horses and kept the horses in a livery stable in the Natchez I ask would would I without any knowledge of theirs have been bound to recieve the horses under my proposition to buy and pay the expences of the horses I trust not — but Law Justice and reason would say that he should reciv the horses pay the expence and account in money for the price of the negroes — apply the case — it was agreed on all hands that the Notchez was glutted with negroes, and at that place the negroes was not to be stopped unless for a supply of provisions a keel boat is therefore got that he may go every where below, first to Bio sarah, next the coast, next the rapids of red river & contrary to this he stops at the Notchez [illegible] sells some of the negroes for an old horse foundered — encounters as his account states in the lump unusual expences, am I by the rules of Law Justice and reason bound to pay for the expence of them believing as I did when I made the proposition to buy that no expence except Mr Greens would have been on the negroes, believing as I did at that time that he had so managed the negroes that at least they would have cleared there own expence, if not neated some thing to the owners, I believe this was not ideas un=common for every person but Mr Green that I know of whose negroes have been there four or six months has made a great deal of money by the hire — has Mr Greens conduct been such to me on the farm that I should have confidence in him or has not his indolence and going counter to his agreement been the cause, that a sacrafice will be upon the negroes of at least $1500 if not 2000 — then certainly I hope that none of the Gentlemen on the arbitration will think, that I infringe on their

in their feelings, by insisting on Mr Greens, producing Vouchers or Specifications – if he has actually expen=ded that sum for the use ~~of the~~ and support of the negroes he can shew it – and the mail will afford a speedy channel through which he can obtain Vouchers, and he can certainly shew by a regular acpt and statement how he fed the negroes or how the were fed – But sir after all I have said, if there is any thing improper in me on the demand I have made please to say to me as a friend in what, and was it to reduce me with all the Rheumatic pains about me to plow for my bread, I will immede= =ately abandon it, I wish to pay him every cent that he has advanced necessarily for the support of the negroes, but I do not wish to be first injured by his inattention and gambling and then pay his gambling debts – I beg you to say to the other gentlemen if there is any thing in my letter improper (which I hope there is not, that it would give me pain the longest day I live to be informed that I had done any thing to injure their feelings – and accept assurances of my high respect and Esteem –

Division orders.

Volunteers to arms!

Citizens! your government has at last yielded to the impulse of the nation. your impatience is no longer restrained. The hour of national vengeance is now at hand. The eternal enemies of american prosperity are again to be taught to respect your rights, after having been compelled to feel, once more, the power of your arms.

War is on the point of breaking out between the united states and the King of great Britain! and the martial hosts of america are summoned to the Tented Fields!

Citizens! an honourable confidence in your courage and your patriotism has been displayed by the general government. To raise a force for the protection of your rights she has not deemed it necessary to recur to the common mode of filling the ranks of an army. No drafts or compulsory levies are now to be made. A simple invitation is given to the young men of the country to arm for their own and their countries rights. On this invitation 50,000 Volunteers, full of martial ardor, indignant at their countries wrongs and burning with impatience to illustrate their names by some signal exploit, are expected to repair to the national standard.

Could it be otherwise? Could the general government deem it necessary to force us to take the field? — We, who for so many years have demanded a war with such clamorous importunity — who, in so many resolutions of town meetings and legislative assemblies, have offerred our lives and fortunes for the defence of our country — who, so often and so publickly have charged this very government with a pusillanimous difference to foreign nations, because she had resolved to exhaust the arts of negociation before she made her last appeal to the power of arms. No under such circumstances it was impossible for the government government to conceive that compulsion would be wanting to bring us into the field. And shall we now disappoint the expectations which we ourselves have excited? Shall we give the lie to the professions which we have so often and so publickly made? Shall we, who have clamoured for war, now skulk into a corner the moment war is about to be declared? Shall we, who for so many years have been tendering our lives and fortunes to the general government, now come out with evasions and pitifull excuses the moment the tender is accepted?

But another and a nobler feeling should impell us to action. Who are we? and for what are we going to fight? Are we the titled Slaves of George the third? the military conscripts of Napolon the great? or the frozen peasants of the Russian Czar? No- we are the free born sons of america; the citizens of the only republick now existing in the world; and the only people on earth who possess rights, liberties, and property which they dare call their own.

For what are we going to fight? To satisfy the revenge or ambition of a corrupt and infatuated ministry? to place another and another diadem on the head of an apostate republican general? to settle the ballance of power among an assassin tribe of kings and emperors? or to preserve to the prince of Blood, and the grand dignitaries of the empire their overgrown wealth and exclusive privileges? No: such splendid atchievements as these can form no part of the objects of an american war. But we are going to fight for the reestablishment of our national charector, misunderstood and vilified at home and abroad; for the protection of our maritime ~~rights~~ citizens, impressed on board British ships of war and compelled to fight the battles of our enemies against ourselves; to vindicate our rights to a free trade, and open a market for the productions of our soil, now perishing on-our hands because the Mistress of the ocean has forbid us to carry them to any foreign nation; in fine, to seek some indemnity for past injuries, some security against future aggressions, by the conquest of all the British dominions upon the continent of North america.

Here then is the true and noble principle on which the energies of the nation should be brought into action: a free people compelled to reclaim by the power of their arms the rights which god has bestow=ed upon them, and which an infatuated king has said they shall not enjoy.

In such a contest will the people shrink from the support of their government; or rather will the shrink from the support of themselves? will the abandon their great imprescriptible rights, and tamely surrender that illustrious national charac=ter which was purchased with so much blood in the war of the Revolution? No. such infamy shall not fall upon us. The advocates of kingly power shall not enjoy the triumph of seeing a free people desert themselves, and crouch before the slaves of a foreign tyrant.

The patriotic tender of voluntary service of the invin=cible grays, ~~and of~~ Capt. F. Stumps independent com=pany and a ~~corresponding~~ correspondent display of patriotism by the voluntary tender of service from the counties of Davidson Summer Smith and Rutherford, is a sure pledge that the free sons of ~~[illegible]~~ the west will never submit to such degradation and free from the embarrassment of domestic concerns they are ready at a moments warning to march to any extremity of the Republick.

Should the occupation of the canadas be resol=ved upon by the general government, how pleasing the prospect that would afford to the young volunteers while

our hands because the Mistress of the ocean has forbid us to carry them to any foreign nation; in fine, to seek some indemnity for past injuries, some security against future aggressions, by the conquest of all the British dominions upon the continent of North America.

Here then is the true and noble principle on which the energies of the nation should be brought into action: a free people compelled to reclaim by the power of their arms the rights which God has bestowed upon them, and which an infatuated King has said they shall not enjoy.

In such a contest will the people shrink from the support of their government; or rather will the shrink from the support of themselves? will the abandon their great imprescriptible rights, and tamely surrender that illustrious national character which was purchased with so much blood in the war of the Revolution? No. such infamy shall not fall upon us. The advocates of Kingly power shall not enjoy the triumph of seeing a free people desert themselves, and crouch before the slaves of a foreign tyrant. ⓑ

But the period of youth is the season for martial exploits; and accordingly it is upon the young men of America that the eye of the nation is now fixed. They in a peculiar degree are the proper subjects of a voluntary expedition. To say nothing of the generous courage ~~that~~ which distinguishes that period of life, they, from their particular situation, can quit their homes at the shortest notice with the least inconvenience to themselves. Unencumbered with families and free from the embarrassment of domestic concerns they are ready at a moments warning to march to any extremity of the republick.

Should the occupation of the canadas, be resolved upon by the general government, how pleasing the prospect that would open to the young volunteers while performing a military promenade into a distant country, a succession of new and interesting objects would perpetually fill and delight his imagination the effect of which would be heightened by the warlike appearance, the martial music, and the grand evolutions of an army of fifty thousand men.

To view the stupendous works of nature, exemplified in the falls of Niagara and the cataract of Mont=morenci; to tread the consecrated spot on which Wolf and Montgomery fell, would of themselves repay the young soldier for a march across the continent. But why should these inducements be held out to the young men of America? They need them not. animated as they are by an ambition to rival the exploits of Rome, they will never prefer an inglorious sloth, a supine inactivity to the honorable toil of carrying the republican standard to the heights of Abraham.

In consideration of all which and to carry into effect the object of the general government in demanding a volunteer force, to give to the valiant young men of the second military division of the state of Tennessee an opportunity to evince their devoted affection to the service of the republic; the Major General of the second division has thereupon ordered

1 That the militia of the second military division of the state of Tennessee be forthwith mustered by the proper officers.

2 That the act of congress for raising a volunteer corps of 50,000 men be read at the head of each company

3 That all persons willing to volunteer under the said act be immediately enrolled formed into companies, officered, and reported to the Major Genl

4 The Generals of Brigade, attached to the second division are charged with the prompt execution of these orders.

Dear Uncle,

I think it highly probable that the house of Erwin & Patton may be disposed to purchase property in Nashville, if so, ours will perhaps suit them — I wish you to make the proposition to them, our price $4,000 one half in advance, the other at 12 months — If they will not purchase the whole, they may the undivided half, which I will sell on the same terms — and at the same price.

I am aware that you have business enough on hand to perplex your mind, & would not therefore give you this trouble; but I fear Mr Erwin may have left Nashville before I return from Kentucky — your attention to this business will confer a singular favor on

Since the election for principal Surveyor in and for the 2d. district, I have not been an unattentive hearer of the blackguard expressions and ungentlemanlike Conduct, which you have so frequently been pleased to exercise & publish against me.

I however had fondly hoped that in yr. intervals of sobriety you would sooner or later discover yr. error and of yr. own accord return to the honest and fair rule which in all matters, & particularly disputes, ought to govern every good man. But Sir vain is this expectation (and that too after a lapse of nearly 6 years) I find I am entirely disappointed; and to my astonishment I see you persisting in a course that is alone calculated to force me into war or disgrace— Do you calculate in this way to pass with impunity? Or do you think yourself possess the right of traducing my character at pleasure?

On my arival to town to day I had not hardly alighted from my horse untill I was informed that you in my absence, had uttered the vilest expressions against me, and had in fact said every thing derogatory to my character as a Gentleman. I therefore immediately called upon my friend Genl. Jackson & merely by the favour of him to call upon those Gentlemen who were present at the time you took this unwarrantable liberty & obtain from them their certificates of the fact.

Yr. conduct to the Genl. this evening, and whilst he was ingaged in this business, was such as to prove of itself that you are totally devoid of the feelings and propriety of the Gentleman;

But sir you have pledged yr.self to the Genl. that you would tomorrow acknowledge in writing or deny the facts proven by the certificates of Messrs. Talbott, Searcy W. C. Dunn, Rickard & Lewis, I sequently decline any further Comments for the present.

When I behold you in the Nation & Councils of our Government the man of great prosperity & high standing, latterly the man in Military commission and now the Candidate for the brigadier Generalship in the 5th Brigade I cannot but feel Confident you will ~~have~~ disavow those harsh and unworthy expressions and as a man of honour do me the justice my feelings & situation requires. If this however you shall refuse my friend Genl. Jackson will cause you to better understand my meaning.

Dear Sir,

I have just time to acknowledge the receipt of yours of the 15th Inst. with its inclosures; and to say, that you are not to infer from my former letter, that I am of opinion, that the facts by you stated relative to the treatment you received on the Natchez road from the Agent, do not afford sufficient ground for a dismissal from the Agency—I think as you do, that such conduct is highly reprehensible; the idea I meant to convey was, that the Genl. Government sometimes requires (as it would seem) some kind of proof that I know nothing of; that is, proofs stronger than proof of a fact, before they will remove the person complained of—when I have a little more leisure, (enough to copy a long letter) first relative of your complaint against Dinsmoor, I will be more communicative than now—my letter on that subject had no other known effect than to produce an answer acknowledging the receipt of it—I have very little faith as to the good effects to be produced by complaints of that sort, altho' I think as you do, that it is strange the good effects are not more visible—I shall by Tuesday's mail send to the Secy War a copy of so much of your letter of the 25th Jany as relates to the conduct of the Agent throughout, that he may have it from the highest authority, from you who witnessed the facts—also a copy of Messrs. Millers & McCluskey's letters to you in corroboration—

I have never recd. any letter or statement from Capt. Thos. Hardeman on the subject you allude to, at all—if he has written, it has not come to hand—I presume you have seen mention made of the death of your real friend, and my very affectionate and most tenderly beloved brother Thomas Blount; an occurrence which took me by surprize, not having been previously advised of his fatal illness—I am with esteem,

Knoxville March 23d 1812

Sir,

I have the honor to forward to you a copy of Major General Andrew Jackson's letter of the 25th Jany last to me, representing in firm manly language, the conduct of the Agent of the United States resident in the Choctaw Nation towards him shortly before the date of his letter; and the copy of two other letters, the one from Mr. John Miller, the other from Mr. George McClesky, of the 2d Jany, and 15th March, in the present year, to Genl. Jackson, corroborating the General's statement of the ill-treatment he experienced from said Agent, on the public road, leading from Nashville to Natchez and back –

It is understood that such oppressive conduct is not sanctioned by the General Government, and the belief is entertained, that they will enquire into and redress the wrongs, and also take such measures as will lead to the entire security of such citizens of the United States as may travel that road in future, checking effectually all such oppressive conduct; otherwise, it is fair to presume that those citizens may, under the plea of necessity, feel themselves bound to do, what they now hope the Government will cheerfully do for their relief, after being advised of the almost daily violation of their rights, and infringement of their privileges, secured by Treaty –

It is understood that the Agent declares he knows not how to discriminate between the fair and suspicious character of travellers on that road, and therefore enforces the most rigid rule against good and bad men – We suppose him that we have the same right to travel that road unmolested, without a pass, that free citizens have and exercise at Washington, whilst passing along the streets attending to their laudable business, as well as the right to remove unlawful nuisances operating to our hindrance in the execution thereof; and it is the desire of Government that we should be entitled to do so, I have no doubt – The frequent violations of the rights of American citizens practised on that road, in the way now complained of, has been the subject of complaint for many years, and they have been repeatedly represented to Government by the regularly constituted authorities of the States of Kentucky and Tennessee, the citizens of which States, do by thousands, of necessity use that road as the best in their power when attending to their lawful and laudable business; and to those who know of the frequent acts of oppression exercised towards many of them, tho' not permitted by Government, their forbearance has been more a matter of surprize than otherwise – it is only to be accounted for from the belief that Government will when informed remove the causes which lead to the practice of such, and take effectual measures to guard against a repetition; by the better ordering of them in future — under such impressions, forbearance to a certain extent is commendable, but it is well known, that forbearance, under oppression, beyond a certain point, known to all reasonable men, ceases to be a virtue, and deserves another name, which men of independent minds do not admire — it is not uncommon for travellers on that road to be detained for the want of passports, which should not be exacted, until they can send, or go, several hundred miles to get them — many who take passports have to travel, or to send, several hundred miles to obtain them, before starting on that journey, which creates great and injurious delays in their business — As Genl. Jackson's letter is so much in detail on this subject to say more would seem unnecessary — I am very respectfully, your Obt. Servant

The Hon'ble W. Eustis Secy. War

Dear Sir,

The foregoing is a copy of my letter to the Secy. War, sent for your perusal — the full details in yours to me seemed to supersede the necessity of saying more — Since writing you last have read your truly patriotic and able address preparatory to your Division orders — those who have feelings and love of country about them will shoulder firelock and wish for an opportunity to march — I am unadvised what course Government will pursue in relation to any intimation of the wish of the Government as to the manner of raising these Volunteers — it would seem they ought to give certain intimations in the nature of general instructions or rules to be uniformly observed by the Militia of the different States — this is mere conjecture but I have hitherto expected some such course to be pursued which is the reason and the only one why I have said so little about the subject — if this is your way of thinking do you not think it would be well to wait a while after your men are ready before making the formal tender of service? — if Government should take any such or other steps perhaps they would expect a strict compliance with such general rule — I only mention this that we may go straight forward — they certainly owe it to themselves to pass some such rule whereby to avoid confusion & to will order and systematize the Volunteer Army — you know more about this tho' than I do — I am with esteem,

Willie Blount

Genl. Jackson

I incline to think that the Southern and western Volunteers will most likely be ordered to the Floridas & perhaps not to Canada — tho' I am unadvised on the subject —

Sir

I was yesterday highly gratified reviewing Captain Tilman Dixons Company of Smith County revolutionary Volunteers; I found them paraded in a meadow in solemn awful silence not a word was to be heard from the ranks; Death or Victory was strongly marked in each countenance: no Juvinal levity was to be seen or heard all wore the aspect of indignation and revenge. When the review was over the Captain caused a Salute to be fired by platoons divisions and the line all of which was performed in a Soldierly like manner.

On this parade I saw many faces though somewhat Bleached by time that I knew to have served during the revolutionary war and to have performed their duty in the times that tried mens souls.

Upon the whole Sir to see a full Company of veterans with stern countenances and heads whitened with many revolving years and erfect and martial attitude, Strikes the mind with grand Solemn and awful Sensations. as nothing less than the dearest rights and priveleges of a beloved country could bring such men to the field a second time; in an advanced stage of life and in easy circumstances too, HORRID NEWS!

Received in Nashville 10 o'clock 25th March 1812.

Major Bradford,

An express has this moment arrived from the frontier with the shocking intelligence that a large body of Creek Indians have commenced their horrid devastations on Bradshaw's creek of Elk river.

I have not time to give you particulars as an officer you can judge of your duty to give the information, I have forward'd an express.

Sir

I this moment met an express on my arival home announcing that the alarm of yesterday, which was brought by express, is groundless - that it origenated by some Villians who was encamped on the Indian land who had a wish to get possession of some houses possessed by others, who painted themselves, raised the indian yell and fired, those in possession immediately ran and gave the alarm - and as it spread it magnified, when it got to Nashville it had increased to what you will see in the inclosed you will therefore countermand the orders of yesterday for assembling the Vollunteers and if any should be assembled order that they be immediately discharged - I am in haste

Dear Sir,

Since my last to you an order has issued from the War department to Mr. Dinnsmoor agent &c. of which the inclosed is an extract — and appears sufficiently explicit to produce the desired effect — our preparations for war continue to progress — we have laid an Embargo for 90 days. — It is considered by those who supported it as the precursor of war — There is not the slightest ground to hope that G. Britain will revoke her orders in council — We must look to & depend on ourselves — our people ought to prepare for war — It appears unavoidable — unless indeed there shall be found among us too many whose fears & apprehensions will overcome their resolution & judgement, and make them shrink from the contest, when the last step is to be taken, & the important question of war, to be decided — Whether this will be the case or not, time alone can decide — For the honor of our country — & of human nature, I should hope it would not — But the conduct of some men is so extraordinary, that there is no calculating with any certainty on events, which depend on their votes. —

Some appear anxious to adjourn for 10 or 50 days this measure, if adopted, will, it is believed by many, damp the public spirit, & paralize the energies of the nation. —

Please make my compliments acceptable to Mrs. Jackson, & our friends in general, and believe me with much respect

Sir,

Your most obedt.

Dear Sir

I have nothing interesting To communicate to you at present — And do this alone in discharge of that obligation, all relations are under to each other, when at a distance of 500 miles, you sir, have had the politeness which I thought is inseparably connected with friend ship, to answer mine on its reception This is more than I can say of some others that I once held more dear Than any others of my relations, and closer connected, however, as it becomes natural for me like others to forget or neglect it gives me little pain, and in future will be less troublesome —

The winter here has been warm, the Spring very cool, the leaves nearly grown, and killed with frost, and I believe many trees will die, I am here farming on a small scale making not enough to support on,
This year I think I will do better, I shall plant 60 acres of cotton, 35 or 40 corn, I have 320 acres land not first rate, but

General Orders

You will without delay give the necessary orders for causing a full and complete enrolment of all those Citizens within your Division who are subject to do Militia duty to be forthwith made; and cause in every instance, where it has not been done, the proper officers to divide their Companies into divisions for the purpose of forming a regular rotation for duty when called into actual service; and require that the proper returns be made and recorded; and enjoin that the strictest attention be paid to the provisions of the law prescribed for keeping up the regular rotation after classification in cases where a private of any one Company is about to remove therefrom and to settle in another, so far as respects giving the necessary Certificate on application; and requiring the proper enrolment to be made in the Company to which he removes within the time prescribed by the 21st Section of the act of 1803, when said certificate is produced, and when it is not –

You will also cause without delay the proper officers to number the commissioned officers by grade, and the proper returns to be made and recorded as required by the 31st & 42d Sections of the act of 1803 for the purpose of determining and directing how and in what manner men shall be called into actual service: and for establishing and settling the rank of officers in the respective Regiments and Brigades – And you will cause a complete return of each to be made to the Adjutant General's office, that he may record the same as is required by act of Congress, passed for the better regulation of the Militia of the United States —

You will forthwith cause the proper Officers in each regiment throughout your Division to take the necessary measures to be at all times prepared to repel or suppress promptly any actual Invasion or Insurrection, or any threatened or premeditated Invasion against this State, or any part of it; regarding the provisions of the 36, 37, 38, and 39th sections of the act of 1803: and in any such case you will order them promptly to act, and to treat the Invaders as enemies to our peace, and cause the proper report to be made to the Executive of this State as required by law —

Dear Genl.

By last Mail I recd. from Majr. Cooper who commands Stewart County Militia (Colo. Tesse Denson being under an Arrest) the report of three Spies which he had sent up Sandy River in confor=mity to a former Order of Mine, the following is the substance of the report made on Oath —

"They crossed Tennessee some Miles above the mouth of Sandy their Orders were to endeavour to discover the Town said to be near the head of that River if possible; upon striking the River several Miles from its mouth, they discovered fresh horse [illegible] leading up the River, they followed the trail some miles untill it left the River, they continued up the River supposed 40 Miles from its mouth, & came to the trail again, it appeared to them that some persons were riding the Horses, as they attempted to cross the River at every place there appeared the least possibility of doing so — after following the trail some distance perhaps 8 or 10 Miles. they discovered where one of the Horses had thrown his rider crossing a deep gully after proceeding a small distance further they discovered an Indian siting on a log with a horse by him, he whistled to them, and they went to him, he said he was a Chickasaw, and that there was a large camp four Miles up the River — being questioned about a town of Muscogees he stated at first that the Muscogees had taken all their horses & gone to the Mississippi — but being told by the Spies that they were hunting Horses which they supposed had been stolen by the Whites & taken into that Country; he then told them that the Muscogees had a town 15 Miles off where they had a number of Horses, & a great many Indian was there — about this time the other Indian who had been trying to catch the horse that threw him came up, appeared to be much alarmed on seeing them, was immediately known by Mr. Miller one of the Spies to be a Muscogee for whom he had mended a gun last summer. upon examining the Gun Mr. Miller discovered the repairs he had done, The Indians then began packing their horses, and appeared anxious to get off, but still asserted they were Chickasaws; the last fellow stated it was 14 Miles to the Town, and pretended to know nothing of Tennessee River, saying he had come another way — The Spies then returned took the back trail of the Indians & came to where they had camped some nights before, where they supposed the Indians had discovered them as they camped near enough to the same place for their fire to have been seen – The horse that threw the rider pursued the back trail to Tennessee where they saw him —

Upon Majr. Cooper asking them while under oath, from what they had seen if they supposed the Indians meant to attack the people on the frontier they unanimously agreed in answering they did, as they supposed those two Indians to have been Spies to discover whether the whites had any Idea of attack on the Town" —

I returned by Mail the following Order

Brigade Orders

"Sir

Having this moment Recd. your communication dated the 18th. Instant. from which it appears by the report of your Spies, that the Indians are in consider=able force on the South side of Tennessee as they have reasons to believe – By my last letter from the Colo. I am informed that the inhabitants had become more tranquil owing to the protection afforded them that 72 men were then in service on the frontier stationed & ranging for their safety, having this even=ing Rec^d. information from other quarters. of the hostile intention of the Indians — In case of a War with Great Britain, no doubt we shall have a War with most of the savage Nations —

You will continue the protection of the frontier agree=ably to my former orders; increase the number of men if necessary — You will be particularly vigilant in ascertaining by Spies if they are imbodied and dislodge them immediately —

I shall in 2 or 3 days send to you a person in whom I can depend, who will associate with such other persons as you shall appoint to repair to the head of Sandy River or such other place as the new town is supposed to be, to ascertain the facts if the town is building; & to report to me without delay — In the mean time you will particu=larly attend to the protection of the frontier. before & [illegible] those confidential Spies are ascertaining [illegible] situation of those Savages — The information & request relative to the Arrest of Col^o. Denson you shall shortly receive —

Col^o. Denson being now under arrest you are to act in his stead untill further instructions — The different commandants of the Regiments in this Brigade have rec^d. their orders, and are to act in conformity to them, and to the requisition you may deem proper to make". —

On the return of Maj^r. Meners — and of the success of Col^o. Denson you shall without delay be notified

Dear Genl.-

My friend Colo. Hammond, who is now in the City of Washington, has written me under date of the sixth of Apl. last, that I am appointed a Captain, in the additional army of the U. S.; And I find that the Law, gives rise to many Staff appointments.

Genl. Winchester, is I presume, your acquaintance and friend - It is believed, that he, is in Command of the Western Division.

I have every reason to calculate on a continuation of your friendly attentions - hope therefore, that you will give me a letter of introduction, and if you should think me worthy, please to offer my service, to the Genl. for any of the above, Staff, appointments, deemed consistent with my rank.

As the course of a Soldier is devious — to day South, & to-morrow North — he Ought to be, as much as possible, prepared to meet every event — And it is for that reason, that I add the further request, that you will, my dear Genl. give me, a revised letter of introduction to Govr. Claiborne.

Most of Our frontier, from North east, to South West, has been recently Stained with the unrevenged blood of our Countrymen — I hope that the hour of ample retribution, is now at hand!

I approve very highly of the plan of about 40 picked men being sent to Spy and Reconnoitre along our frontier — since the outrage which has been so recently committed too much precaution & circumspection cannot be used.

Hermitage June 4th 1812 –

I have this evening reached home, from my trip to Georgia and my heart bleeds within me on the receipt of the news of the horrid cruelty and murders committed by a party of Creeks, on our innocent, wives and little babes, since I left home – It is with regret I find that Genl Johnston at the head of 500 men was near the place where this horrid scene was acted, and did not either send a detachment in pursuit or follow the trail of these marauders, with his whole force even to their towns – as far as I have yet heard they have escaped with impunity – But they must be punished – and our frontier protected – and as I have no doubt but they are urged on by British agents and tools, the sooner they can be attacked, the less will be their resistance, and the fewer will be the nations or tribes that we will have to war with It is therefore necessary for the protection of the frontier that we march into the creek nation demand the perpetrators, at the Point of the – Bayonet – if refused – that we make reprisals – and lay their Towns in ashes – I think I can in three weeks, raise a sufficient force – for this purpose and in six weeks lay their Towns in ashes – I only want your orders, the fire of the militia is up, they burn for revenge, and now is the time to give the creeks the fatal blow, before the expect it – as far as I can learfrom the Cherokees, the Creeks are making every prep-=ration for war – the Cherokees will Join us, if we shew an immediate Spirit of revenge, and it may de=ter the bad men of the Choctaws and Chekesaws, from aiding the Creeks – give me the power to procure – provisions and munitions of war, by your orders and I will pledge myself for the ballance – powder is scarce but I believe, a sufficient quantity could be obtained for this Expedition in Nashville – lead can be had – I think 2500 men (volunteers) could quell the Creeks, and bring them to terms without presents or anuities – This number I think I can raise on a short notice – I intend issuing an order to pre=pare the minds of the militia for such an event and await your orders or the orders of the Genl Govt.

In the mean time I shall give orders, that a sufficient protection be afforded to the frontier – I shall be im-

Sir, I am instructed by the Secy War to call one Company of Cavalry into actual service for the defence and protection of the frontier inhabitants of the Counties of Stewart, Humphreys, Hickman, Maury and Giles, and also occasionally to range between Tennessee and Mississippi within our limits – And your Company of Rangers who had made a tender of service to the President I am informed are selected for that purpose – Pursuant to those instructions, I hereby notify you thereof, and call you and your Company which I presume consists of one hundred men into actual service of the United States for the performance of that duty, and you will immediately repair to that frontier and range thereon – to be equiped as mounted Infantry will be the best equipment for such services, as it is the most common –

I herewith inclose the balance of the Commissions for the officers of your Company, having forwarded the others by last mail – I also forward to you a copy of the Secy Wars' letter to me, with an extract from Mr. Grundy's letter, for your information relative to the instructions received, for making the call and relative to the arrangements made for paying your Company from time to time –

You will immediately muster your men into service, and return a copy of the muster Roll to me – and you will likewise report your numbers to the contractor for supplying the troops of the United States (who I presume is at Nashville) that he may furnish the necessary supplies at your places of general rendezvous, which you will name to him –

The Chickasaws are the only Indians having claim in that quarter and they have given recent assurances of their desire for peace with the United States, you will therefore consider them friendly unless the contrary appears; but if you find any other Indians on that frontier you are to presume them unfriendly unless the contrary appears and will treat them accordingly, particularly if they be either Creeks or any northern Indians

You will make regular reports at stated periods of your movements, and the State of the frontier, and give immediate information of discovering of any large parties of Indians on that frontier, or between Tennessee and Mississippi, and of their views as nearly as you can to Major General Andrew Jackson of the 2d. Division of Militia in this State, who will be instructed to act according to circumstances—

You will cause regular pay rolls to be made out and forwarded to me, at stated periods, that I may be enabled to comply with the instructions of the Secy. War relative to the payment of your Company—

The recent murders and depredations on that frontier renders your greatest diligence and vigilance necessary, on which, as well as on your courage and good conduct, I have the most perfect reliance—I am respectfully, Extract of a letter F. Grundy to Willie Blount dated

"Washington City May 15th 1812

On yesterday the Secy War told me on presenting your letter to him respecting the Indian depredations in Stewart County, that at present he could not spare rangers for that service, but should immediately direct you to call out a Company of Cavalry for the purpose — I also showed him the inclosed (Captain Mason's tender of service) he told me to inclose them to you, that you could call on them for the above intended service — I by this mail shall inform Mr. Thos H. Benton that I have done so, that among you right may be done" —

Knoxville June 18th 1812

Dear Sir,

I would have sent to you copies of the foregoing letters from me to Capt. Mason, and of the extract from Mr. Grundy's letter to me ~~sooner~~ but I really have not had time to make the copies owing to other ~~public~~ engagements of a public kind — my letter to you of the 4th Inst I forwarded by the same mail which carried mine to Capt. Mason — Altho' the Secy War's letter to me directed me to call out a Company of Cavalry on that frontier, yet Mr. Grundy's letter written at his request, inclosing Capt. Mason's tender of service as a Company of rangers, induced me to commission the officers of his Company as the officers of a Company of rangers, who had made a tender of service to the President — thus his Company of rangers are called into actual service of the United States under the order of the Secy War — and I have no doubt but they will do their duty as such and I doubt not but they will be paid, supplied &c. as such — Judge Anderson wrote me at the same time that he ~~[illegible]~~ informed the Secy War (on showing him my letter on the subject of those depredations in Stewart County) that he thought a Company of one hundred men on that frontier with the addition of volunteers would do to defend it — at the time I wrote I suggested that the Secy War should ~~[illegible]~~ order a Company of United States rangers on duty to guard that frontier & to range between Ten. & Mississippi rivers, and that they should be instructed to make report to some authority competent to take effectual measures to protect that frontier &c. — when he gave me the order to call a Company into service I suppose he forgot to give instructions in detail, and I under all circumstances deemed it right in me to give Capt. Mason's instructions "that no time on that exposed frontier should be lost," and also gave him instructions as you see to report to you as being nearer to him than I am for the same reason, so that no time should be lost, in the event there should be a necessity for an additional force on that frontier; and hence my provisional order to you that all might go on without loss of time, so as to provide for the safety of the Inhabitants who from their situations might be and indeed were exposed to Indian depredations — Until the Secy War otherwise orders Capt. Mason will act under my instructions, & you will act according to circumstances on his I send you a copy of my letter to Col. Hawkins on the subject of the unfortunate Mrs. Crawley, and respecting a surrender of those blood thirsty rascals who committed the massacre near the mouth of Duck river — I wish I was as much at liberty to give an order that would ensure a restoration of that poor woman without delay to her family and friends, & effectually to chastise those murderers as a more competent authority is, the order would quickly be given; but I am not — I hope however they will be given up under the order of the competent authority; or that an order to chastise them will be given by the President Inclosed you have General Hall's commission which please forward to him —

I am in haste,

PS. Captain Mason and the officers of his Company are commissioned as officers of a Company of Rangers, authorized on the spur of the occasion — I presume they were accepted as such by the President, & surely will be paid, supplied and so on as a Company of United States Rangers, raised as if * accepted and provided for as the act of Congress (which I have not seen) provides that the said Companies should be — with equal privilege of furnishing themselves — the Secy Wars letter of instruction to me relative to the call has been published in the papers here and at Nashville — I have written this letter as thoughts have occurred and just as fast as I could make letters and believe I have nothing more to say than that I hope by next mail (tomorrow) to hear what Congress are doing or have done respecting the declaration of war which Mr. Poindexter mentions to the Editor of the Clarion as contemplated — and to express an earnest desire that my Genl. order of the 17th Apl. addressed to the Major Genl. of the 1st & 2d Division of Militia, to cause the proper officers in each regiment in their respective Divisions to take the necessary measures to be at all times prepared to repel or suppress promptly any actual or threatened invasion or attack on any part of the State, and to treat the invaders as enemies to our peace — such preparation and action on our part will teach those marauding parties to know that they are not to commit depredations on us with impunity & they will learn to stay away —

Dear Sir,

I have this moment returned from the State of Georgia.
My heart bleeds within me at hearing of the wanton massacre of our women and children by a party of Creeks since I left home. With infinite regret I learn that Genl Johnson at the head of 500 men was in the neighbourhood of this massacre, at the time of its perpetration and yet omitted to send a detachment against these marauders or to follow them himself with his whole force. Thus far they have escaped with impunity carrying off an unfortunate woman along with them. But this cruel outrage must not go unrevenged: the assassins of women and children must be punished.

Now Sir the object of Tecumpsies visit to the Creek Nation is unfolded to us. That incendiary the emissary of the Prophet, who is himself the tool of England, has caused our frontier to be stained with blood, and our peacefull citizens to fly in terror from their once happy abodes. The sooner we strike the less resistance we shall have to overcome; and a terrible vengeance inflicted at once upon one tribe may have its effect upon all others.
Even the wretches upon the wabash might take some warning from such a lesson. We must therefore march to the heart of the Creek Nation: a competent force can be raised at the shortest notice; for the spirit of the whole people is on fire. They burn to carry fire and sword to the heart of the Creek Nation, and to learn these wretches in their own towns and villages what it is to massacre women and children at a moment of profound peace. I wait therefore for your orders!

Give me permission to procure provisions and munition of war, and I pledge myself for the balance. Twenty five hundred brave men from the 2nd Division will be ready on the first signal to visit the Creek towns, and bring them to terms without the aid of presents and annuities.

In the mean time I have issued an order to prepare the Militia for this event: and I only wait your orders or those of the general government to carry it into effect. Other orders shall be issued for placing an immediate force upon the frontier, under cover of which the citizens may resume the labours of their fields. — I wait with impatience for your answer. I have the honor to be with great consideration yours

Respectfully

Andrew Jackson

Governor Blount

Nashville June 5th. 1812.

Major Geo. Colbert.

Friend & Brother!

I learn from the talk which you have sent to Genl. Roberts that the Creeks who have been killing our women & children, have passed through your nation carrying along with them stolen horses, scalps and a white woman prisoner. You tell us that you took two horses from them: Brother, could you not also have taken the woman?

Friend & Brother!

You know I am your friend, and the friend of your nation. The United States is also the friend of the Chickasaws; but this friendship will stop if the Creeks are suffered to march through your Nation to attack our frontiers.

You say your Nation is a small nation and the Creeks are numerous. But what have the Chickasaws to fear from the Creeks when the white people are their friends? Do you not remember when the whole Creek Nation came to destroy your Towns that a few hundred Chickasaws aided by a few whites chased them back to their Nation, killing the best of their warriors, and covering the rest with shame? Brother we will do so again if the Creeks dare to touch you for your friendship to us.

Friend & Brother!

If you suffer the Creeks to pass through your Nation our people in pursuit of them may kill the Chickasaws through mistake.

If your Nation suffer any more scalps or stolen horses to be carried through your Nation, your Father the President will have reason to think that the Chickasaws are about to let go the treaty they have made with him, and take his enemies by the hand.

Friend & Brother!

Mark what I tell you!

The white people will do no wrong to the Indians, and they will suffer the Indians to do no wrong to them — The Creeks have killed our women and children: we have sent to demand the Murderers: if they are not given up, the whole Creek Nation shall be covered with blood. Fire shall consume their Towns and Villages: and their lands shall be divided among the whites —

Friend & Brother!

You tell us you are the friend of the whites, now prove it to me. Send me the names of the creeks who have killed our women and children: tell me the town they belong to; and the place where they have carried the woman.

I am your friend & Brother.

State of Tennessee Knoxville Jan 8th 1812

Sir,

It hath been correctly represented to me, that Charles Hays, Mrs Manley and several other citizens of this State were a few days since killed, scalped, and otherwise most cruelly, barbarously, and inhumanly treated by a party of Indians near the mouth of Duck river in this State, at their homes; and that a Mrs Crawley also a citizen of this State, was at the same time & place taken captive by said Indians and carried off prisoner to the Creek Nation; and that she was seen in the Chickasaw Nation a few days after, with, & in possession of a party of Creek Indians who were then encamped in the Chickasaw Nation, at, or near Bear Creek, detained by said Creek Indians as a prisoner who refused to give her up, and who boasted that they had killed white people near the mouth of Duck, and who shewed the scalps &c. — said party of Creek Indians was commanded by a Creek Indian called Ellipohorchem, who (probably) lives near to, or at the Town, or place, where the Big Warrior resides in the Creek Nation —

In compliance with my duty in such cases, I request, that you will cause the proper measures to be taken within your Agency to effect a restoration of the unfortunate Mrs Crawley to her family and friends; and demand that the Creek Nation surrender up to Justice the Creek Indian called Ellipohorchem, together with the party of Creeks who accompanied him when the above mentioned murders and depredations were committed at the time and place aforesaid, & who were with him in the Chickasaw Nation when Mrs Crawley was seen with them a prisoner, to the end that they may be tried by a competent tribunal as the laws in such cases direct, and require, so that justice may be done —

Information of the result of proceedings relative to this request will be expected to be communicated at as early a day as practicable, and the hope is entertained that I may be advised when to send for and receive the unfortunate Mrs Crawley, as well as for those offenders — I have requested that the President of the United States would cause the proper steps to be taken to effect the restoration of Mrs Crawley to her friends, and that the Creek Nation give up the offenders to be dealt with as the law directs; and I now also ask your attention to the same — We view the murders and bondage of our citizens in the light of greatest grievances — the opinion is entertained that this Executive application will be so promptly and effectually attended to that a redress of grievances in another way will not be resorted to; because if to be sought in another way which common sense with a people laboring under greatest grievances would dictate the propriety of, it might be productive of scenes not delightful to view, but which might produce most lasting effects — I am very respectfully,

Dear Sir, When I left Fort Stoddert I determined to take you in my route but having to come this way for Alexander I had to give up the pleasure of seeing you

On my way thro the Nation I found the Choctaws were considerably confused by the talks of the Prophet circulated by the Creeks - You may rest assured that at a time like this the Choctaws will find their true interest in taking a firm and decided ground, they ought not on any account to suffer hostile Creeks to pass thro or remain in their Country - They, the Creeks, have gone so far that they must give ample satisfaction or the whites will not delay long to take it.

I have seen the U.S. Factor from the Bluffs and little Fletcher who say there is no truth in the story of a Choctaw having been killed and mangled by the Cherokees. that the fellow who it was thought was killed is at the little prairie, it would I think be well for these people to inquire particularly about every case charged against the Cherokees before they proceed to acts of war - They had better try to keep the peace and do as the Cherokees who have offered to the President

President six hundred Warriors to be marched where= =ever he may think proper – This is the sure and I might venture to predict the only way for the red people to save their lands – It would be a great thing for the Choctaws if they would make an offer of their services to the President to fight his red enemies, and I think it would not be difficult to persuade them to the policy of such a measure

I avail myself of an accidental meeting with your son James to drop you this hasty scrawl – I would have written to Mr. Dinsmoor but I learn from Major Stump that he is at Point Coupee

Majr. Genl. A. Jackson:

Sir, I take the liberty of submitting to you, for your consideration, the following questions, which I flatter myself you will do me the favour to answer by Mr. G. G. Washington, who will leave this place on Saturday for Franklin —

Question 1st. Whether Capt. D. Mason's company are to be considered as a company of rangers in the service of the U. S. subject to the same rules and regulations, and to receive the same pay as those rangers that have been accepted by the President of the U. S. in conformity to an act passed February 1812 authorising the President to accept of any number of Volunteer companys, not exceeding — to be employed in ranging the frontiers of the U. S. and to receive when serving on foot 75 cents, and when on Horse one dollar pr day, which shall be considered full compensation for their services and for arming and equiping themselves, & furnishing their own provision, forage &c —

2nd. Whether has not this Company a right (in case they are not to be governed by the same rules & regulations and entitled to the same pay as the rangers alluded to in the before recited act) with the consent of the contractor to furnish their own provisions & forage and draw on the contractor for the amt of the Rations in Money in lieu of the rations,

3d. What pay will the privates be entitled to (in case they are not considered as rangers agreeable to the before recited act) for furnishing their own horse arms ammunition &c

4th. What Measures are to be adopted in case of refusal to serve after having made a tender of their service

5th. What length of time is required to be out before the Company can be permitted to return home and how far is Capt. Kearns subject to the Maj. Generals orders to answer them by Mr Washington if convenient, as I am a young and unexperienced officer and deem it necessary that I should get every information on the subject that lies in my power. ~~I am~~ I am Sir your most ob

Dear Sir,

Yours of the 5th 8th & 9th Instant are recd - I have represented the murders committed by the Creeks to the Secy War, and have requested that the President cause the proper steps to be taken for the restoration of Mrs Crawley to her family and friends; and that the Creek Nation be required to surrender up the party who committed those murders near the mouth of Duck river; and remarked to him that a refusal would probably be attended with bad consequences to that Nation - of the same date have addressed the Agent of the Creek Nation on the subject -

I am authorized by the Secy War to apply to the Military Store keeper at Newport Kentucky for one thousand stand of arms and equipments for the use of the militia of this State, and must request of you to engage some person to go on and receive them - they must be brought by water to Nashville - will you inform me who you can get to go? - Newport is opposite Cincinnati - he should be a careful man - the best way would be to get a boat there on hire or otherwise - by next mail I hope to have time to write you fully on the subject, and to send you the necessary papers -

I approve your orders for defence and hope the rangers vigilance will put it in the power of the militia to act against invaders, or marauding parties of Indians with effect - every man should be prepared to act at a moments warning - if so, future murdering parties may and I hope will be promptly punished -

Mr. Lea of this place yesterday recd. a letter from Mr. Winkle who lives at Chucks cross roads informing that a party of Cherokees about twenty did on the 8th Instant kill a Mrs. Williams & her child in Cocke County, and that they fired four times at her husband whilst he was at work in the field, but missed him - I showed the letter to Col. Meigs who was here; and demanded that he cause the murderers to be given up -

Col. Ben. Hawkins writes to Gov. Hawkins that the chiefs of the Creek Nation are unanimously for peace and that some of the wild young people are for mischief - that ably that such is the State of Indian preparation for peace that they cannot do mischief with impunity — his letter is dated 18th May last — How does that statement square with the report you heard in Georgia that he had moved his family out of the Nation? — The Chiefs hold the council & the rash young men are the tomahawk — I am respectfully

Dear Sir,

In reply to your observations respecting the policy of the United States engaging the Cherokees to act against the Creeks I feel myself bound to use with you the utmost candor — I have no confidence in the assurances of any Indians whatever — Lowry and Walker are both said by those who know them to be clever men but they are Indians in part and live amongst Indians and they will play into each others hands — I have no reason to believe that they the Cherokees have at any time been in council with the leaders of the disaffected partisans of the Prophets party but should not be surprised to learn that they are as far as they dare be secretly influenced in a greater or less degree by those malcontents — and it may be that they have been taught to hold out false colours for special purposes — about 15 months ago there was a very shrewd Indian from the Northern tribes a man of much learning educated in England where he then had correspondents — he staid among those Southern tribes for upwards of one year spending part of his time with one Nation part with another & so on pretending that his Nation and theirs were related & that he was desirous to learn their languages & to unite them in league with each other & with their northern relations and so on — Lowry made strong assurances to you no doubt & he individually might have thought himself sincere but he don't live among us but with the Indians who could ruin or kill him any hour or day they might find him working in their opinion wrong — There is moreover a strong british party in the Cherokee Nation tho' rather on the back ground in point of strength for some years back — many old tories among them who have been there since the revolution — there is a small british party among the Chickasaws too and among the Creeks that party is very strong — among the Choctaws many and I have no doubt but they all have their lesson & know the part they are expected to act — indeed the American party as I suppose are to be found only just around the Agency houses in the Nations respectively — they are in a common way the only part of the Nations who derive benefits from the liberality of the United States — the Agents you know are quite stationary they go but little about in the Nations & the Indians know & care but little about them or the United States either — the british Agents no doubt are very busy — why do the Indians in general seem to be in such commotion now we are on the eve of a war with England? — it is not long since when they were quiet no way restless — in my letter of this date you see that there is a report that the Cherokees have killed a woman and child — the report came from Mr. Weidle to Luke Lea — is true it has not been confirmed by any account of it rendered to me but nevertheless I credit the report — Weidle says the report no doubt is correct — He would give no currency to it if he did not believe it — yet another part of the Nation are making friendly assurances nay willing to make a tender of service to Government — I really have no confidence in them as a people and do believe their talks are all fudge —

There should be in each regiment of Militia one or two companies of volunteer mounted infantry well equiped holding themselves in readiness to march in a moment — to be mostly young men with good arms and experienced officers do you not think so? — they could be much relied on — I am told that a number are associating themselves in this end of the State & getting ready as fast as they can — frontier Country should have such in readiness at all events & you should have a list of them — If you would just write to certain men in whom you have full confidence suggesting the thing as proper making no fuss about it, it would soon be done — if troublesome times do come every man should be prepared to do something — each should believe that he could render some important service to his country — one such company in each regiment could be of well picked men, well equiped — John Williams says he will raise such a Company here — It will fall to the lot of Tennessee to defend this frontier — Congress will have enough to do elsewhere & they know nothing of the extent of this frontier let us be prepared as above stated — I am your friend

Governour Blounts letter June 1812

Knoxville Jan. 14th 1812

Dear Sir,

By last mail I requested to know who you could get to go on to Newport Kentucky for the Arms and said I would forward the papers by this mail but shall omit to do so until you say who will go on that I may draw the order in his name which I must know before I can draw the order — The report that the Cherokees had killed a woman and child in Cocke County is untrue — Col. Lillard directly from the neighbourhood is here and says that two men neighbours of Williams were disposed to alarm him, that one presented a stick at him from the opposite side of the fence and another struck the fence with his Axe — Williams ran past his house to a neighbours & said that he had been fired on by 10 Indians that his family were killed and so on — The people assembled — the men told what they had done and for what reason & the people went home —

I suggested the propriety in my last of your writing to certain men of your acquaintance on whom you could rely to raise Companies of mounted Infantry & to hold them in readiness but did not say that I was not authorized by any of our laws to commission the officers of such companies — neither could I commission them yet I should be glad that they could be raised so as to act without commissions if occasion required & think it would be well for you to say so to such as you may write to on the subject — If they should raise such Companies no doubt the next Assembly to be held in Aug. or Sept. next would authorize the ~~Executive~~ to commission the Officers & between this and then they could raise fine companies to consist of one hundred men each, uniformly so — this would be a valuable Corps to be held in readiness to march at call —

I am satisfied that your idea of carrying war into the heart of the Creek Nation would be the best way to bring about tranquility to our frontier but I have no authority to give an order to that effect — all Executive authority is restricted to the limits of the State and my general orders of the 17th April are fully up to my power and authority in cases of attack within our limits — if they are ~~strictly~~ attended to and enforced by the Commandants of Regiments every fore marauding party of Indians would get off and after an example or two made such parties would be very shy — I presume you have given the necessary orders to them on that head throughout your division —

No Treaty from France by the Hornet — Barlow says the Emperor is so engaged about his preparations for war with Russia that every thing gives way to it at Paris — he hopes however that he shall be able to send on a Treaty in two or three weeks by the Wasp — judges there will be no Treaty by the Wasp or any other vessel untill the United States acts decisively against England — that is all Bone wants for — he has no confidence in our Government at all — I have none in him, nor in England neither; but I am confident that he looks for decisive measures on our part before he takes any step towards an alteration of Affairs — this is all guess work with me — you know I am no politician neither shall I ever be —

John Rhea writes me that in the event of War the United States will he thinks furnish Tennessee with Arms — He says that some member proposed to the House of Rept. that it was inexpedient to go to war with England — they gave it a negative answer by refusing to act on it — that is as much as to say they will declare war altho' it is not a declaration in fact — Am very sincerely your friend

Dear Sir, June 16th 1812.

Your letter of the 12th instant is received. You will observe that the order to you is in pursuance of the order from the War department, which should have been more explicit on most of the points mentioned in your letter. The quota required from your division is expected to be detached as the Militia laws of this State providing for the classification of the Militia for actual service and to be officered as said laws direct when the Militia are called into actual service — which classification and arrangement of men and officers you can ascertain on application to the Colonels of Regiments and Generals of Brigades whose duty it is to have them recorded — There is no other rule prescribed by law for ordering detachments or for officering them — When they detached they are to be organized into Companies, Battalions and Regiments according to the quota required as nearly as may be practicable as follows, each company to consist of 64 privates, each Battalion of four companies, and each Regiment to be composed of two Battalions – The companies of Cavalry, artillery and Rifle men to be attached to the Regiments as the 11 Sec. of the act of Congress passed May 8th 1792. directs – The whole quota required from this State will not be more than a Brigadiers command and the militia laws of the State will shew who he is – You will of course appoint a muster master to form muster rolls, and inspection returns in your division. The detachments is to be armed and equiped as the militia laws of this State directs. And the least exertions will be used by his Excellency to procure from the Genl. Government letter arms without delay

Accept Sir assurances of my high Respect

Dear Sir

I have the honor to acknowledge the recpt of your two letters of date 12th instant, which is Just to hand - and I am favoured with the perusal of your letter to Major John Coffee of the 6th ~~instant~~ of which I have carefully perused and their contents duly noted - I heartily concur with you in your ideas with respect, to the little confidence that ought to be placed in the aid or friendship of Indians - but I do think that policy will dictate the propriety of in=listing one nation against another if they will go to war, those that are not for us must be against us ~~and~~ if the will attempt to deceive by part of a nation holding out the olive branch ~~and friendship~~, whilst the others ~~[illegible]~~ are scalping us, let us make the aparent friends, join in punishing the hostile part ~~and~~ If we get the Cherokees, engaged with the Creeks, they will be obliged to be friendly with ~~and~~ us to preserve them=selfs - ~~and~~ I believe self interest and self preservation the most predominant passion - fear is better than love with an indian - therefore the policy to enlist Lowry, walker & the Ridge in our service, and - make them furnish a sufficient number for pilots, to the creek towns, and manage the ballance so as to deceive the Creeks, by giving them orders to march always at a distant period, when troops would at that time be actually in the creek towns, I am of the opinion that either the Cherokees or chickasaws would advise the Creeks of any campaign against them of the Prowit —

I am happy to find that a supply of arms & equipments can be had, and immediately on the receipt of your orders, for the arms and equipments, I shall send ~~[illegible]~~ Mr. Ele Hammond for them across by land, to get them put into some of our Merchants Boats, who are loaded for this place, they are shortly expected from Pittsburgh to pass Newport on their way thither. ~~[illegible]~~ Mr Hammond is a man in whom the utmost confidence can be placed and well acquainted with boating, ~~[illegible]~~

Rest assured I have the Militia in a state of readiness that I could in three days move with 2500 Volunteers against the Creeks & I shall have (where there is not already) one company of mounted infantry as you recommend in each ~~[illegible]~~ ~~County~~ Regiment. Should the report of Mrs Williams and her childrens being murdered be true, it proves fully the combina-tion of all the nations to the South with the Prophet ~~[illegible]~~ — as soon as I can get the arms from Newport I will be ready — the report of the murder being found true and speedy vengeance will await the friends of the Prophet — for ~~[illegible]~~ let Col. Hawkins say what he will; the greatest ~~great~~ body of the creeks are for war and it is almost impossible that he Col. Hawkins could have wrote on the 18 of May, and that reached North Carolina & there publish-ed in the Raleigh paper and in Nashville on the 12 of June ~~[illegible]~~ — Mr Lester did state to Capt Strother and myself on the night of the 24th of May, that on the 22nd he saw the Col. and his family on Milledgeville and that he had moved his family owing to the hostile attitude of the creek nation with the same report from [illegible] I see and note from your letter to Major Coffee, the extent of your power— Indeed I knew, that by the laws of the State you had no other power but to order out men to repell invasion &c &c— that you could only make defencive war but I did expect that the President seeing the situation of the north western frontier would have given you full and ample power, to have defended your frontier in every way necessary & proper, and not to have waited untill a blow was struck, and then give your orders to apply a remedy— this is sending for a Phician after the patient is dead—but rest assured that my militia are ready and will act promptly and efficiently when ordered—I hope to be able to have compleat returns to you, under your two last orders in a verry short time I wrote for some explanation to the adjutant Genl by last fridays mail— which I hope to receive by next friday; the different Genls, are acting in anticipation of my orders having seen yours and will have their respective quotas in ten days from the time they receive my order, I can only make the apportionment by Brigades— The law does not require the Brigade Major to make a return to me of the strength & condition of their Brigades, I have no data to Judge of their respective strength, and can only divide the men wanted equally between the five Brigades—I am advised that Capt Mosons company is

A Copy of Col.o Dinsons Memorial to Gen.l Johnson

To the Hon.ble Thomas Johnson Brig.r General of the 6th Brigade of the State of Tennessee Greeting —

Your Orator humbly Sheweth that at a Regimental Court Marshall of the 26th Reg.t of this State in the Town of Dover on the 4th day of June 1812. he was Chasheered from Office of the Command of said Regiment for no just cause (as he believes) but from flimsy frivolus charges & improper sinister motives — Your also Sheweth that his accuser set on said trial & gave his voice first of s.d Court with other gentlemen who's names is & hath been used as candidates for said petty fill commission in case a vacancy should be certain — Your Orator also Sheweth that he was never legally arrested & that he consented to have a hearing by said Court (a majority of which was Leutenants & ensigns) on condition he could have an appeal to a higher tribunal if required. which appeal was refused by s.d Court & also that one of your orators material witnesses (Isaac Lanier) was summoned and did not attend s.d trial by reason of his absence to N. Carolina, for these & other causes too tedious to mention (some of which will be made appear) your Orator prays, your honor would take into consideration the premises & grant him a fair & impartial trial (which he thinks he had not before) by a Court of field officers of your respective Brigade, so that he may thereby avoid injuries. injustice & oppression & as in duty bound your Orator will ever pray —

Dear Sir,

I wrote you fully by last mail - yours of the 17th instant is to hand - I am not authorized to draw any money from the treasury to defray the expence of transportation of arms from Newport, [illegible] Creditors might loan so much, or that you [illegible] otherwise make the necessary [illegible] on that head, until the assembly provides - shall expect you to do so - am glad you have been able to get Mr. Eli Hammond to go on for them, he is the right kind of man - inclosed is the order for the arms, which please hand to Mr. Hammond - tell him to pick the arms if he is permitted, for I fear they are not of the best kind - Col. Meigs informs me that a letter from the Secy War says to him, that the application from Lowry and Walker &c. is under consideration, when I know the result will communicate it to you - it seems from this that they made a tender thro' Col. Meigs - it affords great pleasure to learn that your division are in such readiness - I have said to the Secy War that if Government would order a campaign against the Creeks, that quiet would follow, & to our obligation; that they should urge it - hope Capt. Mason's Company are on duty before this - I expect to hear this day whether the Congress have declared war against Britain or not - I believe the H. of Rept. have declared it, & the Senate were expected to decide on the 9th instant - this is guess - I have directed Mr. Hammond to deliver the arms and equipments to you at Nashville please receive them - I send my letters to him inclosed to you for your perusal & delivery to him - nothing by this days mail from Washington, not a word - In haste,

Yours sincerely

Dear Sir,

I recd. by last mail yours of the 17th Instant inclosing a partial re-turn of Volunteers from the Brigades composing the 2d. Division of Tennessee Militia commanded by you, amounting in number to two thousand seven hundred and fifty nine Officers and Privates; which Volunteers you inform me were raised under the Act of Congress, passed Feby 6th 1812, authorizing the President of the United States to accept the services of fifty thousand Volunteers; and in which letter you request, that I will in behalf of those volunteers and of yourself make a tender of their and of your service to the President of the United States in conformity with the provision of said act; which request I have of this date attended to, and have made the tender of service agreeably to request with very singular pleasure – I have entire confidence in such Corps – a tender of service in time of approaching difficulty, is saying in one word to the constituted authorities of the Government here we are ready to act in support of American liber-ty and Independence, than which nothing can be more acceptable to Government, nor more honorable to the Volunteers – The answer of the President when recd. will be communicated to you, and thro' you to the volunteers of your Division – in the mean time I take the liberty to request that you will transmit to me, muster rolls of the several Companies &c. as enrolled; and that the Volunteers will hold themselves ready to march when called for – I shall send you a copy of my letter of this date addressed to the Secy War, making the tender of service, and asking of him how the field and Genl. Officers to command the volunteers are to be appointed, when the Companies are organized into Battalions &c. – I hope you have recd. my letter of the 17th Instant relative to the election and return thereof, of the Officers of Volunteer Companies – I am very respectfully

I have the honor to transmit to you the foregoing copy of a partial return of Volunteers raised under the act of Congress, passed Feby. 6th 1812, in the 2d. Division of Militia in this State, this day recd. from Genl. Jackson, who requests, that I may make a tender of their services as Volunteers in conformity with the provision of said act, which authorizes the President of the United States to accept them; and I do hereby, in compliance with his request, make a tender of their services to the President of the United States, and ask his acceptance, conformably with the provisions contained in said act — it affords me very singular pleasure to do this —

I am requested by the Genl. to say, that the prospect of an immediate declaration of War by the United States has induced him to make this tender before the receipt of your letter to me on the subject of making a tender of service, which I forwarded to him last mail, the day after I recd. it — I have requested him to hold said Volunteers in readiness to march at a moment's warning, as we daily expect to hear that the United States have passed a declaration of war against the enemies of our peace and of our Independence — to be prepared to punish such is a duty which every man owes and feels —

I am requested by Genl. Jackson who is a brave and patriotic Genl. to say, that he stands pledged that he will in ten days from the receipt of your orders, appear at the head of four thousand Volunteers in the field, ready for any service to the South or West that may be required — and that should imperious circumstances require it, that he will be before the walls of Quebec, with twenty five hundred Volunteers, in ninety days from the receipt of your order — He can most certainly do so — He loves his Country, and his countrymen have full confidence in him — He delights in peace; but does not fear war — He has a peculiar pleasure in treating his enemies as such; with them, his first pleasure is to meet them in the field — at the present crisis he feels a holy zeal for the welfare of the United States, and at no period of his life has he been known to feel otherwise — His understanding and integrity may be confided in — He is independent and liberal in mind, easy in his circumstances, generous and open in his habits and manners, — He ought to command his volunteers —

In addition to the above mentioned number of Volunteers I am requested to make a tender of service to the President of two other Companies, to wit, Captain John Kennedy's volunteer Company of Infantry raised under the act of Feby 6th 1812, in Overton County, West Tennessee, their services are tendered conformably to the provisions of said act – The other, is Captain Joshua Cox's volunteer Company of Light Infantry, raised in Roane County, East Tennessee and this Company makes a tender of service to the President for the term of six months from and after their arrival at the place of rendezvous, as part of the quota required from this State, of the detachment of 100,000 militia to be held in readiness – I make tender of this Company in that way, agreeably to the tender made to me, and by me so accepted – both these Companies are required to hold themselves in readiness to march on shortest notice – I have the pleasure to say, that I believe the volunteers who now make their tender of service as above mentioned may also be relied on as brave defenders of their country's rights –

I am requested to inquire of you, who, or by what authority, will the field and general officers who are to command these volunteer companies be appointed and commissioned when organized by the President and when called into service? – And I respectfully ask, that if to be appointed by the President, would it not be the most satisfactory way to those who are to be commanded by said officers for him to permit them the volunteers, or the officers commanding the Companies to elect them, and to transmit returns of the election to the President? –

I feel it to be my duty respectfully to say, that I believe, that the spirit of the people in this State is so roused by the conduct of those Creek Indians who recently massacred some of our citizens near the mouth of Duck river, and who took Mrs. Crawley prisoner, whom I have in a former letter requested, that the President would without delay demand to be given up, that they probably cannot be restrained, if satisfaction is not given in reasonable time, from taking it – It is said that those Creeks take that poor woman from town to town in their Nation, naked, and insultingly dance around her as their captive – I have said in a former letter to you, that if Government would order a campaign to be carried into the Creek Nation, there to punish them for their crimes, that quiet would follow; I now repeat and recommend it as the best way of keeping peace, already violated; I repeat it under fullest conviction, that it would be the most effectual way, permanently, to preserve peace with them, as I believe, that nothing short of it will – Col. Hawkins says to Governor Hawkins, that the chiefs of the Creek Nation are unanimously for peace, and that some of the wild young people will be for mischief, and that they may be expected to act as the impulse of the moment may dictate to them – in all troublesome times that have been, or that will be, this has been, and will be, the course which Indians have and ever will pursue in order to paralize the arm of Government, unless a different order for them to walk by is prescribed – I hope and trust that Government will not permit such insiduous division among them to be countenanced, and that they will be told, that those who do mischief shall be punished therefor, or that the Nation shall suffer in common with them – If this is not the case, those wild young people among them, who compose by far the greater part of their Nation, and who always in difficult times do as they please with the chiefs, will kill hundreds of our innocent frontier inhabitants, which would so exasperate the people that they would become sound with Government, and would proceed without authority to take satisfaction indiscriminately on those Indians as common enemies – These remarks and observations are made with best intentions as they relate to a respect sensibly felt for Government, and to the more permanent security of this frontier against inroads of marauding parties of Indians, who now infest it, and who may easily if taken in time by Government be taught the value of good conduct, and who could in this may be taught to stay away from this frontier; which is now strong enough to drive those Indians into the Sea, or to compel them to take refuge with their Canadian brothers and allies, who are, as Ellipohorchee the commander of the party of Creeks who committed the late murders on Duck river told Geo. Colbert, encouraging them to commit depredations on the white people, and probably on such part of their Nation as would not countenance them – this is fully believed here to be the fact, and of course the Creeks are viewed as enemies to the United States, and as determined to commit depredations on us who live; as is ours, on the path-way of intercourse between them and those their allies – The first desire of the people here is to be permitted by Government to meet their enemies, and under that permission their first pleasure would be to treat them as such – These are my impressions about the Creeks Indians and conceive it to be my duty candidly to represent them to my Government for their consideration and action if they judge proper – And have the honor to be very respectfully,

Nashville July 3rd 1812

On the 29th ultimo, Mr E. Hammonds set out for Newport Kentuckey with instructions, and determination to be here at as early a day as possible, I hope he will be at Nashville on the 20th Instant with the arms and Equipments, ~~if all should be~~ ~~there~~, doubts has been suggested here, of there being the quantity of arms at Newport, and it has been stated, that what are there, is not fit for use— this has reached me since Mr H. started let this be as it may, I have directed Mr Hammonds to receive good arms, and I have requested the agent to send none but such as are fit for immediate use— I am really fearfull that we will be disappointed, in the receipt. of them ~~arms~~

I have had my eye to the receipt. of those arms, to commence my movements against the creek nation— on the event that the captive, together with the captors are not delivered to the United States, which I do not expect— The safety of our whole frontier requires, a speedy stroke against the Creeks, and with or without orders, the present spirit of the citizens require, ~~a stroke~~ an immediate movement to be made— May I may say the safety of our Frontier, ~~and~~ and that a speedy end may be put to indian hostility imperiously demand it,— I shall wait no longer than the 20th or 25th ~~instant~~ with such arms and supplies as I can obtain I shall pe=netrate the creek Towns, untill the Captive, with her Captors are delivered up, and think myself Justifiable, in laying waste their villages, burning their houses, killing their warriors and leading into cap=tivity their wives and Children— untill I do obtain a surrender of the Captive, and the Captors— I find a great scarcity of ammunition here it will be difficult to obtain a supply — should I be disappointed in the Musquets from Newport, it will be a serious injury and inconvenience in the contemplated scourging of the Creeks — I am just (verbally) advised that Capt Masons spies five in Number, fell in with four indians believed to be Shawnese, and killed one and wounded two, so soon as I receive Capt Masons report, will advise you thereof —

I should thank you for any advice you have recd. from the war department on the subject of the Depredation of the creeks —

By next mail I shall write Col. Thos. P. Carnes of Georgia asking his cooperation with me, with a body of men from Georgia to make an attack upon the South Eastern tribes of the Creeks at the same time I make the stroke on the North western a combined ~~[illegible]~~ movement & sudden blow will give us eternal peace with the southern tribes —

A messenger from Capt. Mason has delivered me the enclosed report to be forwarded to you. I am glad he has got some blood: it will keep the war alive. I have extracted the substance of his report and sent it to the printer.

I have talked with a multitude of persons: they say they will go with us to the Creeks whether the government is willing or not. It was the earnest request of Mason and his company, also of Crawford and his company, that they might be called in and taken along when the expedition should move.

I have seen Chouteau. He would willingly provide the supplies if the government will give us their countenance: he discovers considerable hesitation otherwise.

I shall meet you at the time appointed.

I have to acknowledge the receipt of your letter of the 25th of June inclosing a coppy of yours to the Secretary of war of the same date, making a tender agreeable to my request of the services of the volunteers of my Division to the President of the united. The sentiments you have been pleased to express to the Secretary of war of me, is truly gratefull to my feelings, and in return I can only observe, I will endeavour to merrit them — your letter of the 30th of June announcing a declaration of war with great Britain has been recd, and duly noted; and for the event we are ready, and if the arms had arived, I would say perfectly prepared — The return of the muster rolls of the volunteers shall be made to you as early a day, as the can be obtained from the respective corps in the differrent ~~[illegible]~~ Brigades some of the returns have been made to me by Genl Winchester whilst commanding the 4th Brigade, stating the number of officers and men — through Genl Hall I expect to receive a compleat Roll as early as he can obtain it ~~from the~~ differrent captains all of which shall be forwarded as soon as obtaind ~~[illegible]~~ — I have the pleasure to acknowledge the receipt of your favour of the 4th instant covering a coppy of the Secretarys letter of the 22d of June acknowledging the receipt of your letter to him on the subject of [Mrs.?] Crawly captive with the creeks, and the murders committed on our frontier by a party of that nation — It would have afforded me much pleasure to have seen the Secretary of war treating that subject with that serious attention that its importance deserved, and the magnitude of the offence required and ~~[illegible]~~ merited — But to pass over it with a bare acknowledgement of the receipt of your letter, that he has transmitted it to B. H. Esqr with directions to procure the release of Mrs Crawley, and to demand a surrender of the Indians to the authority of the united States, is as little, as he could have said on the receipt of a communication from you as chief Executive of the State, stating that a party of creeks had killed an old sow with her litter of pigs, and drove one off to the nation. This is not such a notice as I expected from the crisis and the extent of the murders, (with the unusual barbarity even among savages) would have been paid to the subject — The time, and circumstances, together with the influence under which government think the indians are excited to hostility on our frontier ~~think~~ ought to have induced the secretary, to have said to you a little more, and at least, to have given you authority, on the answer of Hawkins to you, that the captive with the captors was not surrendered, to have marched a campaign against the creeks — This would have been noticing the subject as its importance required, and calculated to give the frontier full confidence that the government of the united States would aid the State government in protecting them — and put an end to their breaking up on the frontier [illegible] I anticipated that you would ~~[illegible]~~ receive an answer from the secretary of war about the time you did, and on the 8th instant requested a council of officers from my division, in Nashville — which will determine the state of our movements against the creeks — the result of our deliberations shall be made known to you in due time. The war begun must not linger on our part — and as Mr Grundy has made an appeal to our patriotism, in my division he will not be disappointed — and we hope we will not be disappointed in his support and that of the government of the united States —

With sincere Esteem and due respect
I am Sir yr Mo. ob. Servt

83 I would barely ask; was it not as violent attack and marked with as much indegnity towards our government as any war committed – was not the murder of our women and children in a state of profound peace more aggravating than any act of great Britain and does the government with their ~~[illegible]~~ long experience still think that this too is a subject for negociation – and that the feelings of a country possessing humanity can wait the slow opperations of a tedious negotiation for a redress of their wrongs of such a bloody hue, and at a time that nothing but energy and dispatch will prevent their frontier from breaking up, this cannot be seriously calculated on by rulers that reflect –

Nashville July 10th 1812

Dear Sir

I wrote you of the 8th instant, advising you that a consul-tation was to be held on the 9th having in view the period of time that a movement should be made against the Creeks on the event Mrs Crawly was not surrendered by the Creeks, ~~and on~~ referrence to your letter, and the dates thereof we find that if the nation is disposed to give her up with the murderers that we will be advised thro you of that event certainly by the 25th or 30th of this present month, therefore haveing an eye to the 10th of august next, the whole present agreed that it was right and proper to be prepared at the moment the creek nation made the act their own by a refusal to release the captive ~~and~~ carry fire and sword into the heart of the creek nation, for this purpose my order of this day is issued; and in the mean time to provide if possible a sufficient supply of provisions, and munitions of war for the campaign— men I have; but money I have none— If my own credit ~~was~~ sufficient for the object, I am safe, and revenge certain, but the supply of an army competent to destroy the Creek nation, (say four thousand) is a serious undertaking for the private purse of a single individual, But I had a hope that sufficient funds could be obtained on loan from the Bank— This (I am certain) could be obtained by application from the State Legislature ~~and I am certain if yours~~ the members of East T--feel, for the horrid murder as we feel on the west—were the Legislature in Session, they would, procure supplies, and countenance the expedition, for I am confident that the government of the united States would sanction the proceeding— and in fact I do believe were the not entirely absorbed in the invasion of Canady— the Secretary of war would have authorised 187 you to have held your Militia in readiness to have marched, at the moment you were advised, that the application made for the surrender was refused — but from the tenor of his letter, I do infer that the agent is to make the demand, communicate the answer to the President, and then you are to receive orders — If this is the specimen of the energy and despatch of our war ministers at the commencement of their operations such energy I fear will not bring the war to a speedy close, the eyes of the ~~adjoining~~ circumjacent indians are on us, and if we are dilatory in our punishment of the creeks we will have captives in their nations to demand, and many murders of our frontier citizens to deplore — we have confidence in your energy and and wishes for satisfaction if you had the power — will it not be thought prudent to convene the Legisla-ture of Tennessee early in august next, that they may take the subject up, and grant you by law such powers as are necessary to ~~secure~~ obtain complete satisfaction from the creeks and a restoration of Mrs Crawley, was the Legislature to convene the first week in august, a sufficient force could be in the Creek nation by the 25th of the Legislature took up the subject on their first delib-

-rations — this I submit to your consideration at the requ-of a number of those gentlemen I have consulted; we all know with the direction and support of the government how much more pleasant the campaign would be than without it, we know also, that an army well furnished and supplied is much more certain of success, than one badly sup-plied — but we are determined, with such supplies as we can obtain, by our individual exertion to make the attempt to restore Mrs Crawly to liberty, and avenge the death of our butchered wives and infants, when we make the case of Mrs Manly & her family & Mrs Crawly our own — when we figure to ourselves our beloved wives & little prattling infants, butchered, mangled, murdered, & torn to pieces, by savage bloodhounds, and wallowing in their gore, you can Judge of our feelings— what feelings can a government have, who can hear the recital, and await the slow progress of dispatches thro the channel of a mail to an indian agent instead of making use of the power and the means to enforce speedy vengeance on the perpetrators of these horrid scenes (B) the know we are ready and pant for vengeance— why not give you orders, intrust the thing to your prudence and management, instead of this tardy and circuitous rout, and is a citizen of the united states, to remain under the barbarous lash of cruel and unrelenting savages; confined to a mortar, naked, lacerated, and compelled, thus to prepare food for her tormentors for six months (B)

The scene is to disgusting, and the thing too disgracefull for a government that boasts of liberty and of rights we have a hope, that the legislature will be shortly convened that the brave sons of Tennessee, may under the authority of the state by their prowess and heroism wipe from the national character, this blushing shame— accept the assurance of my respect and Esteem

(B) that too at the time the have declared war against great britain, and in part for exciting these very indians to commit these shocking & barbarous outrages

(B) without any other notice of the general government, than mere directions for a demand to be made by the agent—

Dear Sir,

I have the pleasure to transmit to you, and thro you to the Volunteers of your Division, the copy of a letter this day receiv'd from the Secretary at War in answer to mine of June 25th, in which I communicated to him, their and your patriotic tender of service to the President of the United States in conformity with the provisions of the act of congress passed 6th February 1812, authorising him to accept the services of 50.000 Volunteers.

The high terms of Satisfaction he express-es in his acceptance of the tender, evinces his pleasure at your conduct; and is also expressive of the very high opinion he enter-tains of the patriotism and zeal felt and manifested by such brave defenders of their country's Rights. Such an evidence of readiness and desire to be useful, as their and and your tender affords, reflects the highest honor on them, on you, and on the State; — While, at the same time, it teaches the enemies to American Liberty and Independence to know that they shall not only cease to violate, but shall respect our rights.

For the honor done to the State by making this tender of service, permit me to offer my thanks to you, and to the Volunteers of your Division; and to say, that I believe the most perfect reliance may be placed in your and in their exertions, on all trying occasions.

I have reason to believe that a considerable number of Volunteers raised under that act, are about to make a tender of service to the President from the first Division. What can be more pleasing and interesting than to see Citizen Soldiers, animated with the love of Country, Vying in a laudable manner with each other, who shall be foremost in taking the field in the defence of their common Country?

Nothing

Nothing can be more to the credit of the people.

I am respectfully.

Dear Sir

Yours of the 8th & 10th Instant came to hand by last mail, and I without loss of time wrote an answer; but the mail had started before I got my letter to the office, so it did not go —

I have for some time past made, and shall continue to make best exertions to prepare for the meeting of a called session of Assembly to be held at the shortest day practicable to convene it under all the important existing circumstances, requiring it to be held — it cannot well be sooner convened than the first Monday in September next, & at that time a meeting will take place —

If the Secy's answer to mine requesting the demand had contained provisional instructions how to act in the event of a non-compliance on the part of the Creek Nation with the demand, it would have been more fully up to the general expectation here — it would have seemed as if Government felt sensibly for our sufferings, in the way that they are universally felt for here, and would have been quite as expressive of a determination in Government to afford ample protection to our much exposed frontier inhabitants, who know not what moment they might be by those savages made to experience the horrors of Indian barbarity in equal degree with those felt at the massacre near the mouth of Duck river, complaint of which formed the subject matter of my letter — when writing the Secy, the propriety of provisional instructions being given by Government to some person to take effectual measures against the Creeks in case the demand was not complied with in reasonable time, occurred to me, presuming that there could be but one sentiment entertained by the whole people of the United States who knew the particulars of that most cruel and horrid massacre; but I felt a delicacy in asking for such instructions, lest the request should be viewed as officious; I nevertheless think, that the governmental instructions (which I have not seen, tho' taken as for granted that they are penned in the proper spirit) or directions given to Col. Hawkins on the subject of demand, are sufficiently plain and energetic to cause a restoration of Mrs. Crawley to her friends, and to effect a surrender of the murderers to justice, and in the event of a refusal on the part of the Creek Nation to comply with the demand of Government regularly made, my ideas of propriety and justice in such case teaches me to believe, that Government will without delay order a campaign to be carried against that Nation, to the end that they may be convinced, that they shall not commit depredations on, and kill innocent men, women, and children of the United States with impunity; as well as to convince them that the Government of the United States will not permit their demand to be treated with contempt by them, or by any other Nation — I view such a course by Government when they made the demand as decided on, & as necessarily to follow after a non-compliance with their demands, in all cases — At the time of making the demand for Justice in relation to that massacre, there were suggestions as to the way of effecting it, as well as to produce the most permanent tranquility on this exposed frontier; tho' the wisdom of an energetic campaign against our enemies in the event they should refuse to comply with the reasonable demand of the Government; and have considered it to be my duty to recommend to the General Government the propriety and necessity of ordering a campaign to be carried against the Creeks for their conduct towards the people of this State, in the event that satisfaction is not by that Nation given under the demand for justice in reasonable time — I have addressed the Secy War twice on that subject; but as yet, have not been favored with his answer — I wrote by two successive mails; and it may be, that time has not been afforded him to answer, owing perhaps, to the press of other business. I hope, things will work together for good, tho' it is hard to be patient under great grievances.

My ideas about the measures best calculated to keep peace on this frontier, and respecting the proper mode of treating Indians, are well known at the war office, and it may be, that they are not viewed there as correct, or as sufficiently fraught with the milk of human kindness to keep regular pace with the more enlarged plans, views and policy of the Government — be that as it may, a long course of pretty steady reflection on those subjects induced the belief with me that my ideas in relation to those points, were tolerably correct, and the situation in which I am placed together with the feelings ~~felt~~ unison in common with my fellow citizens of the great propriety and real necessity for attention on those heads, so as best to produce a state of tranquility, have induced me ~~I have from~~ time to time to communicate such ideas as I entertained in relation thereto to the Government for their consideration; in relation to which they will do as they please, and I hope and believe they will so act, as may be for the best — our situation tho', requires a good deal of governmental action to put things in a desirable state; and I should be much gratified to see actions tending that way pretty much the order of the day — the condition of this section of the Union, and the numerous population inhabiting it, who have a right to expect much from their situation, teaches the propriety of great governmental action without loss of time, not only to fix their rights, but to occasion a desirable growth in our political relations, and keep up a full handed supply for our great and necessarily increasing wants arising from our local situation which owing to its newness in settlement has never yet been provided for in the way that older settled parts of the Union have been in order to experience governmental benefits — I am with every regard,

Extract of a letter received by Saml. Acre Esqr from Pedro Alva, the Interpreter of the Governor of Pensacola dated 16th July 1812 — (Translated)

The News we received yesterday from Europe of the 15th of May, is very favourable. A general Peace is made except as to the U.S. Spain has declared war against them and all the other powers of Europe are hostile in Sentiment to America; their intentions are to make a partition of the united States.

40.000 English with 25.000 Spaniards have ere now arrived at the North.

The cession of Louisiana has been declared null on account of a treaty which Talleyrand present minister of State, has produced, and which was made between Buonaparte and Jefferson, by which the latter was to have been guaranteed King of Mexico and America; but the prop was too weak, it has fallen.

The English continue to frequent our coast and land, and make deposits on St George Island, in order to pay a visit to the American Generals.

Denson having been Notified that the Court was Ready to proceed to Business Appeared in court and on being asked by the president if he was willing to wave any informality which ~~which~~ might have taken place with respect to his arrest & being furnished with a copy of the charges & come to trial he answered in the affirmation which was ordered to be entered by the Judge advocate the charges were then read to him by the Judge advocate

2d ungentlemanly conduct on the Tennessee River with a certain William Lewis & others to which charges the Col. plead not guilty. whereupon the testimony of several witness were taken which went to shew that the col was in company with william Pryor & the Sheriff at the farthest part of the Town & marched with a Drum beating & other musick to the prison & in support of the second Charge testimony was introduced to shew that Col.

Denson a few days day three after the houses was burnt & Cattle Killed at the mouth of Sandy was found on the Island in Tennessee River River in company one William Lewis & Aron Fletcher and being told that several people had gathered together at the mouth of Leatherwood a few miles off and wished him come to them to give Directions how they should act he replied he had not time to go & being applyed to send orders declined doing so the Col in his own defence proved that he had a horse on the Island which he was looking for & that he issued orders the ninth day to Capt. Askew the nearest Captain to send some men to the frontiers, after duly considering the Charges. and the testamony on both sides. it is the Opinion of this Court Marshall that Col. Denson is Guilty of ungentleman & unmilitary Conduct and ought to be Cashiered from Office, from which Decree of the Court Marshal the said Col. Jesse Denson prayed an appeal to a Brigade Court Marshal which a Majority of the Court thought he was not intitled to. and it of course was not granted.

Dear Sir,

I have the pleasure to transmit to you, and thro' you to the Volunteers of your Division, the copy of a letter this day rec'd from the Secy War in answer to mine of the 25th of June, in which, I communicated to him, their, and your patriotic tender of Service to the President of the United States, in conformity with the provisions of the act of Congress, passed Feby 6th 1812, authorising him to accept the services of fifty thousand Volunteers.—

The high terms of satisfaction he expresses in his acceptance of the tender, evinces his pleasure at your conduct; and is also expressive of the very high opinion he entertains of the genuine patriotism and zeal felt and manifested by such brave defenders of their country's rights— Such an evidence of readiness and desire to be useful, as they and your tender affords, reflects the highest honor on them, on you, and on the State; whilst, at the same time, it teaches the enemies to American liberty and Independence to know, that they shall not only cease to violate, but shall respect our rights.—

For the honor done to the State, by making this tender of Service, permit me to offer my thanks to you, and to the Volunteers of your Division; & to say, that I believe the most perfect reliance may be placed in you, and in their exertions, on all trying occasions.—

I have reason to believe that a considerable number of Volunteers, raised under that act, are about to make a tender of service to the President, from the first Division – what can be more pleasing or interesting than to see citizen soldiers, animated with the love of country, vieing in a laudable manner with each other who shall be foremost in taking the field in defence of their common country? – nothing can be more to the credit of any people – I am respectfully,

Major Genl. Andrew Jackson

Of this date I have written a letter to Capt. Eli Hammond, directed to him at Nashville & have informed him that in his absence you would be requested to open it and attend to the contents – it is directed to your care – and hope you will not find it too troublesome to comply – send a copy of the Secy Wars letter to each of them as they otherwise may be at a loss to know what that letter will inform them of – you observe that the Secy War in his answer to mine of the 25th June has observed entire silence as to that part of my letter which recommended that the Creeks should by order of the General Government be soundly drubbed. I cannot account for silence on that head – Col. Hawkins has not yet acknowledged the receipt of my letter making the demand – I have no doubt but he has rec.d it and also the Secy Wars letter to him on the same subject, but I have not been so informed – flying report says that the Creeks have sent the unfortunate Mrs. Crawley home but it has not been communicated to me thro' any authentic source – I am willing to hope it is so but I don't know that I believe it is – I shall not believe without full evidence – A Cherokee is here who says the murderers have gone off to the Prophet – judges –
